Larkspur Manager Asks Truce In School Parking War

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel, Larkspur School District, has been protecting his schools by nightly vigils at Henry Hall School and 2 a.m. calls to Police Chief Howard Clark demanding he issue tickets to cars parked there during the night.

Seidel's night watches came to light last night as councilmen heard a request from City Manager Ronald Piper that they arbitrate a four-month guerrilla war between Seidel and residents living along the boardwalk which borders the school.

Seidel, it was explained, objects to so much as a wheel of the residents' cars hanging over their parking easement onto the school's driveway. He has placed innumerable calls with Larkspur police demanding they issue traffic citations for illegal parking. Police have spent more than an hour at the school debating with him it was learned.

The adjoining paved easement and driveway came into existence when an architect designing the school decided he didn't like a curved entrance to the school and straightened it so it encroached on the easement.

Trouble started several months ago when police refused to issue citations, saying the line of demarcation between easement and driveway wasn't distinguished.

School officials then ordered a white line painted down the driveway dividing the two. Next they occupied themselves drawing white chalk lines around parked cars to demonstrate how residents violated the law, Piper said.

When this was not effective, they installed two chains across the entrance. Last weekend the chains were mysteriously cut. The school demanded that police apprehend the criminal. The parking continued.

The final straw, Piper said, came at 2 a.m. yesterday morning when Chief Clark was called out of bed to the school by Seidel because a police officer had refused to issue a citation to a car whose wheel hung over the edge of the dividing line.

"Is this what they call progressive education?" asked Councilman Robert Smith.

Councilmen agreed unanimously to request Seidel's presence at the next council meeting to explain his position.

CAPS AND GOWNS FOR SEMINARY GRADS

Eighty students graduated from the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo in ceremonies this morning. The graduates heard Rev. J. Robert Nelson, professor of theology at Obelin College, Oberlin, Ohio, deliver the commencement address entitled, "What More Are You Doing Than Others?" The ceremonies this morning climaxed a full schedule at the seminary. Last night the seminary choir presented a program and this morning the alumni held their annual breakfast. NWP Cost Claim Called Too High

ICC Hears San Rafael Testimony

Northwestern Pacific Railroad is claiming from three to seven times the actual cost of restoring its burned and partly collapsed Puerto Suello tunnel at San Rafael, according to testimony before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner in San Francisco today.

The railroad has said that it must make an outlay of $1,017,000, which would require interest payments of $50,850 per year.

Against this, an accountant, Mark D. Larkin of San Francisco, who was called before an abandonment hearing today by counsel for San Rafael, said that proper accounting methods showed a possible low cost of $137,479 which would cost in interest only $6,874.

The witness said this would restore the tunnel to previous conditions, part timber and part concrete. His highest cost for all concrete construction was $365,368, his lowest $182,767.

SAFETY REASONS

One reason for differences in his figures as compared with those of the railroad was that Larkin uniformly charged $144,787 as a cost not avoidable by abandonment, since for safety reasons there would be backfill and other work preparing for permanent closure. The railway has not admitted that it is legally bound to do such work.

A bewildering lot of other considerations, having to do with income tax and other accounting matters, were brought out by direct examination conducted at rapid rate by Boris H. Lakusta.

Railroad attorney Randolph Karr professed himself bewildered and frequently called for a slower pace, as well as trying without avail to obtain rulings to remove various things from the record.

Finally Examiner F. Roy Linn pointed out that it was not yet Karr's turn.

'THROWING THINGS'

"This witness is throwing things at me and I can't defend myself," exclaimed Karr.

Santa Fe attorney Frederick G. Pfrommer sardonically put in, "That will be the day."

After a recess, Karr was allowed to start his cross examination, which seemed likely to be prolonged.

At the hearing yesterday afternoon six Marin County witnesses united in objections against permanent abandonment of rail service through the tunnel. Five of them were shippers in agreement on several basic points:

1—General pattern of Marin rail service has deteriorated since the tunnel fire last July 20.

2—Reduction in car ferry service to Tiburon from every business day to twice weekly has proved an economic handicap.

3—Inventories must now be

ZION REPORT

Marinwood Action With Terra Linda Is Called For Now

By AL BOCK

If Terra Linda and Marinwood want to make any changes in their form of government, now is the time.

This was the advice last night of municipal government consultant William R. Zion of Lafayette. About 30 residents from the two communities and directors of their community services district boards heard Zion's final report on the area's political future in the Terra Linda Community Center.

24-PAGE STUDY

Zion's 24-page study showed these conclusions:

1. There is a growing need for police protection, an improved road program, juvenile control and control of land use in the communities.

2. The present form of CSD government can continue to meet the needs for which it was set up but cannot meet the above needs. The services districts cannot, especially in Terra Linda, protect themselves from piece-meal annexation to San Rafael.

'EFFICIENCY'

3. Consolidation of the two CSD boards and the Terra Linda Recreation District, as well as expansion to include the proposed Eichler community in Lucas Valley, would "improve the efficiency and financial resources of the districts."

4. Other alternatives—incorporation or annexation—would make no significant change in local tax costs.

But Zion did not say which of the two alternatives would be better. He made these comments on them:

NO DISADVANTAGE

Annexation—Zion said there would be no real financial disadvantage to annexation. If annexed to San Rafael, present tax rates of $1.21 in Terra Linda and $1.14 in Marinwood would be replaced by $1.23 for both areas.

The recreation services now provided are more substantial than San Rafael could guarantee, Zion said, and he advised that the Terra Linda Recreation District should be retained. This, under existing law, would "most likely" be assured, he said.

Incorporation — This would require the most "effort and emotional controversy," Zion said. He warned it should not be undertaken unless there is a "feeling of common identity" between Terra Linda and Marinwood. "So far I believe this feeling does not exist," Zion said, "but maybe it's beginning to come about now. Until now, the areas have remained physically isolated and each has gone its own way."

Incorporation, or even annexation, could best be undertaken if the communities combined. But Zion admitted Marinwood could wait for a year or so and still gain advantages by incorporation on its own.

CITY BUDGET

If the areas incorporated, the city budget would be about $200,000 annually, including $50,000 for a five-man police force. Necessary property tax rate would be $1.05 cents and if necessary could legally go as high as $1.40.

Also, if incorporated, the new city could spend more money on new roads and road maintenance than the county apparently now intends to spend, Zion added.

Again he warned that incorporation would require a "modest city of low-pressure operations because of limited revenue sources."

CASTRO THERE

Marin County Supervisor Walter R. Castro, whose district includes Marinwood and Terra Linda, was a member of the audience. Replying to a question about the county's reason for excluding the county farm and juvenile hall from any proposed incorporation, Castro said the county wanted to retain "control" and county zoning requirements are "higher than some cities."

(The county courthouse and the new civic center are both within the limits of San Rafael.)

At the conclusion of Zion's report, Boyd Wells, president of the Marinwood Association, told CSD board directors that his group had undertaken an incorporation study and will report to the boards in about two weeks.

Copies of Zion's full report are available free of charge from the CSD board secretaries.

Estes Probers Fire Aide For Talking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House subcommittee investigating the Billie Sol Estes case has fired a Republican aide for leaking confidential information to newsmen, a highly placed Republican source said today.

The source said that both Republican and Democratic members of the subcommittee had agreed to fire Robert Manuel, GOP minority counsel to the House operations subcommittee.

The subcommittee is headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, (D-N.C.).

The group met in executive session today. When the meeting broke up for a quorum call in the House, the Republican source said Manuel had been given a dismissal notice.

The source said GOP committee members agreed to "go along" with the Democrats on the matter.

"There's nothing else we could do because the prestige of the committee is involved," the source said. "He admitted leaking the report to the (New York) Herald Tribune."

Manuel told UPI he gave the Herald Tribune an agriculture department report on Estes that was stamped confidential. He said his position on the committee still was undecided but that he "guessed" he would be fired.

Hardesty, Richardson Take School Post Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Cecil Hardesty of San Diego and Ralph Richardson of Los Angeles moved into the lead for state superintendent of public instruction today.

Max Rafferty of La Canada dropped to third place as late returns from Los Angeles pushed Richardson, president of that city's school board, into second place.

A November runoff between the top two candidates will determine the winner of the top state school job.

Returns from 23,433 of 31,212 precincts with only about have of the Los Angeles vote included, showed:

Hardesty 484,016, Richardson 481,593, Rafferty 476,472.

Wallace W. Hall, an associate of the retiring state superintendent, Roy E. Simpson, was running fourth with 362,070.

Hardesty, who resigned as San Diego County school superintendent to run for the state job, was endorsed by many school administrator groups.

Richardson, a UCLA professor, is a former aide of Gov. Brown. Rafferty, who campaigned for a return to the three R's and indoctrination in Americanism, resigned as La Canada high school superintendent to make the race.

Houseboat At Waldo Point Swept By Fire

Fire yesterday afternoon caused losses of $2,800 aboard the houseboat, Rickety Ann, tied up at the end of a long dock at Gate Five, Waldo Point.

None of the occupants of the three apartments were at home at the time of the blaze.

Reported at 2:25 p.m., cause was attributed to defective wiring, according to Marin City Fire Capt. Frank Machado.

Two of the three apartments aboard the boat were burned, the third belonging to owner Jean Leseman was untouched. Miss Leseman was in Wisconsin on vacation and her roommate, Lillian Reilly, at work.

Most seriously damaged was the apartment of George Lidicker where fire, believed to have been heightened by bamboo decorations, totally burned the walls of the apartment and scorched the roof breaking through in places. Lidicker, at work, estimated $1,300 loss in personal belongings.

A third apartment, rented by Terry McCall, was scorched. McCall's clothing was saved.

Machado estimated $1,500 damage to the structure itself.

Fire Warden Phil Chapman who injured his left index finger on broken glass, said bamboo used to decorate walls and ceilings of the apartments was highly inflammable. "It was like a blow torch," he said.

Ten men fought the fire, four from Marin County Fire Department, at Marin City, and six from Sausalito Fire Department, as well as a number of volunteers recruited on the spot.

Chapman reported that another boat, Catamaran 6, in front of the Rickety Ann was being licked by flames blown by winds and was in danger for a time of also burning. He said the men stretched hoses 400 feet down the dock to the Rickety Ann.

SUPERVISORS HEAR OF 'LOW MORALE'

Conflicting opinions over personnel policy, ignored pleas for changes and a lack of uniform policy have led to "low morale" among Marin County employees, the Marin Grand Jury today informed the Board of Supervisors.

"The personnel problem has been repeatedly brought up" during recent Grand Jury meetings with county officials, Edgar T. Lindner, chairman of the jury's committee on county offices, stated in a letter to the board.

Lindner wrote there was lack of uniformity in the hiring and firing of employees and suggestions from department heads to the supervisors and the personnel commission had been ignored.

"To be very specific, there is a definite conflict of opinion between the administrative office and the personnel commission," Lindner stated, and he added ,"There is no doubt such a difference of opinion also exists in the Board of Supervisors."

Commenting on the Grand Jury remarks, Alan Bruce, county administrator and personnel director, told the board the personnel commission had not yet made a report on personnel policies, requested by the board Feb. 9.

Bruce also described a re-

GOP Congressmen Issue Campaign Principles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans approved today a declaration of party principles for this year's election campaigns and coupled it with a broadside attack on Kennedy administration domestic and foreign policies.

The 2,500-word statement called for a thorough overhaul of the tax system, without specifically mentioning tax reduction, and for "a new direction for public policy in order to advance the cause of freedom at home and throughout the world."

Firing directly at President John F. Kennedy, the Republicans said:

"The oft-heard campaign cry 'Get America Moving Again' has become a hollow echo."

The statement, entitled "A Declaration of Republican Principle and Policy," also said:

"The current administration has shown little understanding of, or concern for, institutions that buttress freedom at home —separation of the powers, checks and balances, state and local responsibility, and a free competitive economy."

Prefacing the statement was an outline of what the Republicans called their "five principles as basic beliefs."

They were:

1. "We believe in the individual's right and capacity to govern himself—to set his own goals—to make his way to them without the restraints of dictatorship or paternalism.

2. "We believe that the basic function of government is to

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Friently Russian Gets Arrested

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Russian who became friendly with some members of Benny Goodman's touring jazz orchestra was arrested last night by Soviet police in the Black Sea resort of Sochi.

Reports reaching here said the incident took place in front of the Primorskaya Hotel while the man was talking to some of the musicians.

The man who was arrested was identified only as an employee of a local television station. Police officers confiscated a book from the man and took some pictures from his companion.

Grace Won't Make Film

NICE, France (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco says she definitely will not play in Alfred Hitchcock's film "Marnie." She indicated she probably has retired from the movies permanently.

The former Grace Kelly announced two months ago that she would make her return to the screen this summer in the Hitchcock movie. Later the British director said he had postponed the production.

"On the one hand I will not have time and on the other I have been definitely influenced by the reaction provoked in Monaco at the announcement of my participation in the making of this film," she said.

Laos Princes Meet Again

KHANG KHAY, Laos (AP)—Laos' three rival political princes met in the rebel-held Plaines Des Jarres today, and neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma said the long-awaited agreement on a coalition government might be reached tomorrow.

Souvanna said his first meeting with Prince Boun Oum of the right-wing Vientiane government and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong encountered little difficulty.

"If we continue to work in a similar atmosphere, I am sure we will reach a final agreement tomorrow," Souvanna said.

It was the princes' first meeting since January.

Bible Reading Upheld

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Florida Supreme Court has upheld the right of Florida schools to have daily Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

In a strongly worded unanimous decision, the court said that a state law requiring Bible readings did not violate constitutional provisions for separation of church and state.

The decision is expected to be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano died last Jan. 26 of a heart attack and not from poison, an official Italian medical report said today.

No More Marines

HONOLULU (AP)—Navy Undersecretary Paul B. Fay Jr. says there are no plans to increase the number of U.S. Marines serving in Thailand to help defend that country's border against communism.

Fay made the statement at a news conference last night shortly after arrival at Hickam Air Force Base. He is beginning a month-long tour of naval installations in the Pacific.

Fay will remain in Honolulu until tomorrow.

He said he did not know of any move to replace Marines in Thailand with U.S. Army troops.

The ambassador's assault came during a council debate yesterday on quota contributions to the OAS budget. What apparently aroused his ire, diplomatic sources said, was that an amendment was drafted without Mexico's participation.

President John F. Kennedy plans to visit Mexico at the end of the month.

Senate Cuts Aid To Red Nations

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has jolted the Kennedy administration by directing that no slice of next year's foreign aid pie go to a Communist or Marxist dominated nation.

While Secretary of State Dean Rusk was lamenting yesterday's Senate action as most unfortunate, administration leaders marshaled their forces to fight off another onslaught on the 4.7-billion-dollar authorization measure—an effort to lop off 400 million dollars.

The aid restriction—still to be considered by the House—is aimed directly at Yugoslavia and Poland, the two Communist nations which receive U.S. help.

The administration takes the view that by assisting the two it acts to wean them away from domination by the Soviet Union. But the amendment's author, Sen. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) declared in yesterday's debate that any aid granted to a Communist country "can never be in the interest of the security of the United States—it can only be in the interest of the promulgation of international communism."

The Lausche amendment passed by a 57-24 vote when 34 Democrats turned a deaf ear to a White House plea and sided with 23 Republicans. Voting with the administration were 18 Democrats and 6 Republicans.

If accepted by the House, which has yet to act on its version of the bill, the amendment would specifically prohibit 10 million dollars in development loans to Yugoslavia next fiscal year, and ban shipments of surplus agricultural commodities to Yugoslavia and Poland.

The Senate acted within minutes after Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana read a White House letter protesting the cut as an action which would "play into the hands of those who are most hostile to the United States."

"We must have confidence in the president," Mansfield said, as he read the letter from McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to Kennedy.

In his statement Rusk said "adoption of the Lausche amendment will give the impression abroad that we are permanently writing off to Soviet domination the millions of people who still yearn for freedom."

Administration hopes for a modification of the restriction appeared to rest on whatever success it may have in persuading the House not to adopt such an amendment and sending it into a Senate-House conference where other language might be worked out.

The bill before the Senate simply sets limits on foreign aid. Actual appropriations will be handled in another measure.

The effort to slice 400 million dollars takes the form of amendment by Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). The president would determine where the cuts would apply."

Secret Army Killers Executed In Paris

PARIS (AP)—Two Secret Army killers were executed at dawn today—the first to be sent before a firing squad—but former Gen. Edmond Jouhaud remained in the death row he had shared with them.

The fate of Jouhaud, 57, deputy commander of the underground terrorist army, still rested with President De Gaulle. There was an indication de Gaulle would spare his life.

The first executions came a few hours after the Secret Army in a pirate broadcast in Algiers reported a deadlock in its talks with the Moslem nationalists and said, "We are again taking up war—particularly in the economic field."

The broadcast advised women, children and older Europeans to leave Algeria to "free the men for the scorched earth campaign."

Southeast of Paris at Fort Du Trou D'Enfer (Hell Hole Fort) rifle volleys followed by two pistol shots—the customary coups de grace—rang out at 4:12 a.m. They brought death to Albert Devecar, 37, a former sergeant in the Foreign Legion, and Claude Piegts, 27, a civilian.

They had been convicted of slaying a police commissioner in Algiers on March 31, 1961.

Dovecar and Piegts refused blindfolds as they faced the firing squad.

"Aim at the heart!" shouted Piegts. Just before the shots rang out, he cried: "Vive l'Algeria Francaise" (long live French Algeria).

"Vive l'Autriche (Austria!) Vive la Legion!" shouted Dovecar.

The bodies were buried in nearby Thiais Cemetery.

Dovecar was a native of Yugoslavia and lived in Austria before joining the Foreign Legion in 1957. Piegts was an insurance agent in Algiers.

The two Secret Army killers were brought to the fort under heavy guard during the night from Fresnes Prison in Paris, where Jouhaud also is held. There was no advance announcement of who was being executed, and rumors spread that Jouhaud had faced the firing squad.

Jouhaud's lawyer, Yves Perrussel, spiked the rumors. Under French law the lawyer for a condemned man must be present at his execution and Perrussel was reached at his home after the rifle volleys cracked out.

"You see, I'm still here," he told a reporter. "It was not Jouhaud."

Dovecar and Piegts stabbed to death Police Commissioner Roger Gavoury in Algiers a few weeks before Jouhaud openly turned traitor as a leader of the abortive generals' revolt in April, 1961.

The Algerian-born Jouhaud went underground with his coconspirator, former Gen. Raoul Salan, to lead a savage campaign of terrorism in a desperate attempt to block de Gaulle's efforts to put Algeria on the path to independence.

Jouhaud was captured last March. A week after he was condemned to death, Salan was caught. A special court found "extenuating circumstances" in Salan's case and the commander of the Secret Army got off with a life sentence.

The Secret Army's pirate broadcast last night denounced Jouhaud's appeal for a cease-fire as a fake.

The broadcast said, however, that an understanding was still possible between the European settlers and the Moslem nationalists provided the French government did not interfere.

Cambridge Students Name 1st Red Leader

LONDON (UPI) — Cambridge University, which was in the Ivy League before Columbus discovered America, elected the first Communist student leader in its history last night in a tidal wave of British Fair Play.

Brian Pollitt, 25-year-old son of the former chairman of the British Communist Party, who was the election underdog, won the presidency of the influential Cambridge Union partly because he was beaten up by a gang of unidentified assailants three days ago.

Pollitt heard the news of his victory in the infirmary of his college where he is isolated by strict university rules until he completes the examinations that will determine whether he can remain at Cambridge for an extra year of research.

Festival Theater Excels With Fry

By STANLEY EICHELBAUM S. F. Examiner Thursday, May 31, 1962

Last weekend, the Festival Theater in San Anselmo opened a unique and rewarding production of Christopher Fry's infrequently performed verse drama, "Thor, With Angels."

The play, which was written in 1948 for the Canterbury Festival and was intended by its author to be seen "in, or not far away from, a church," is about the conversion to Christianity of the Anglo-Saxon invaders in 6th century Britain.

Fry has given his drama a fascinating, primitive historical flavor plus a rich, vigorous, exceedingly moving poetic style.

And the Festival troupe, which performs on the grounds of the S. F. Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, has staged the work with exceptional power, respect and eloquence.

Under Elizabeth Fuller's direction, the gifted cast turned in a stunning performance and the production itself was, in every way, outstanding.

The story concentrates on the sudden enlightenment of a Jutish warrior (magnificently performed by John Graham, ordinarily, a modern dancer) who miraculously discovers the concept of one God through a young British prisoner (admirably played by K. K. Kitchi, despite fierce opposition from the warrior's wife (Elizabeth Berryhill) and family.

I was totally absorbed by Fry's forceful, lucid treatment of this complicated phase of British history, which is presented with the richness and imagery of a folk legend, but with enough humor and humanity to make it completely credible.

As the Jutish couple, Graham and Miss Berryhill head a first-rate cast that includes Louis Bennett, who is excellent as Merlin, the Authurian sorcerer.

There are also superb contributions by Tom Borden and Bella Edidin, whose ingenious setting and costumes lend a marvelously barbaric look to the production.

Last two nights! This Fri. & Sat., 8:30 p.m. Adults $2; Children & High School Students $1. Good tickets available. Reservations: 456-6410. The Theatre, San Anselmo, Bolinas at Kensington Rd.

SPEEDING CAR CRASHES SAN RAFAEL HOUSE

Kugar the cat, owned by Mrs. John Admire (left), conducts his own investigation of an accident last night in which a 14-year-old Fairfax youth rammed his father's car into a house at 640 Mission Avenue, San Rafael. Sgt. Lincoln Borba (right) investigates for San Rafael police. The youth said he lost control of the car when the throttle stuck as he entered the Mission Avenue off ramp from Highway 101. Another boy, 14, also of Fairfax, suffered a cut finger. (Independent-Journal photo)

Larkspur City Employees Win 10 Per cent Hike In Salaries

Larkspur city employees won a 10 per cent salary increase last night over the protests of two councilmen who said the increase might jeopardize Larkspur's future financial structure.

Voting 3-2 with councilmen Lesly Daveler and Robert Smith dissenting, the council approved City Manager Ronald Piper's new salary structure. It changes step levels for salary raises in some classifications besides advancing nearly all salaries 10 per cent.

Debate over the increase revolved on what kind of city employees a city as small as Larkspur can expect to get. Before the increase, Larkspur salaries were among the lowest in Marin.

"This schedule will put us somewhat in line with what other cities in Marin offer," said Piper. "I do not agree that we don't have to compare our salaries with bigger cities. A small budget means fewer people, not less qualified people."

Smith protested the increase and said: "We're mortgaging our revenue from increased valuation and taxes from future residents for the next several years. Larkspur will have to spend money in the near future on other improvements, and we shouldn't bind ourselves like this."

In other action last night the council:

1. Re-appointed David Scott to the planning commission despite his statement he would prefer the post go to someone else.

2. Re-appointed five members to the recreation commission. They are: Chairman Peter P. Krug Jr., Mrs. Dorothy Meyer, William Schnell, Dr. Ted F. Pett and Paul Otis.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon, representative on the commission, said commissioners could work better without a liaison from the council. Councilmen voted not to send him.

3. Voted to accept a request from residents on Murray Avenue for city street maintenance of a 100-yard strip on Murray Avenue not included in the Murray Park Assessment District.

4. Agreed to use Larkspur's share of the gas tax revenue to widen Magnolia Avenue north 1,200 feet from Doherty Drive to a standard two-lane street and install curb and gutter. The city will spend $12,000 of the $19,725 for improvements and $7,425 for maintenance.

5. Voted a 30-foot strip off an unnamed road easement to Norman Clark, who would otherwise be unable to reach his property in the new Larkspur Plaza area.

Old Mansion Moving In Sections To Belvedere

Belvedere will be richer by one vintage mansion when the San Francisco residence, once owned by Dr. Herbert C. Moffitt, is transported across the bay in sections and reconstructed on the island.

The mansion was originally built in the early 1900's by William Knowles and refurbished in 1914 by Willis Polk who was credited with rebuilding San Francisco after the earthquake.

According to Norman Gilroy, designer, the home will be restored close to its original condition but modernized. Gilroy, who is an architect by profession in his native England, has interested himself in old buildings and will move the mansion from 1818 Broadway and barge it across the bay either June 17 or June 24. Refurbishing should take three to four months, Gilroy said.

He declined to state the exact location in Belvedere as negotiations are not yet completed. Nor whom the occupants will be.

Marin realtors William Slater and William Johnstone and Attorney James Murray have been working with Gilroy.

They discussed the matter, then set it for public hearing June 20 in order to get more public opinion.

Center Plans Put On Table By Loma Verde

The proposed Loma Verde recreation— swim center has been temporarily tabled, the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. was told at its quarterly meeting Tuesday night in the Marin Country Club.

Gordon Walker, director of the Trousdale Construction Co., stated that the company had withdrawn its offer of the site on Calle Arboleda. This proposed center caused a furor when presented to the Novato Planning Commission in February.

Abe Granish, president of the association, said that the matter would be tabled until some plan could be worked out for a site which would be satisfactory to everyone.

The association plans a dance at the Marin Country Club on June 23, Granish said.

Plane Gets Council Nod

Mill Valley youngsters for a moment were threatened with loss of their promised stripped-down jet fighter last night before the city council when a letter opposing the plan was introduced.

Hugh and Elizabeth Rodman and five other citizens said the move of the plane from Hamilton Air Force Base to Boyle Park was undesireable.

They cited that space would be lost, youngsters might be hurt in falls and the "plane is not suitable to our environment."

Hamilton Air Force Base has reported it must have a decision soon since the plane is ready to be delivered.

Maurice B. Angland, commander of the American Legion, Mill Valley Post 284, said the Legionnaires are ready to build foundations for the plane and the Air Force has promised to assist in providing a band and color guard for the dedication.

"As a father of an eight-year-old boy, I wouldn't dare vote against it," said Councilman Michael Wornum. He moved approval and the vote was unanimous.

Marin Contractor Low Landscape Bidder

A $57,142.90 bid by Ceccotti and Son of Marin, Ind., of Corte Madera, was the lowest of three opened yesterday by the State Division of Highways in Sacramento for roadside landscaping on Highway 101 near Miller Creek Road.

The division allocated $80,000 for the work, which involves planting 576 trees, 2,714 shrubs and 157,000 ground cover plants along 1.7 miles of highway from .2 of a mile north of Miller Creek Road to Waldo undercrossing.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a breather today as prices closed mixed in slow trading.

It was a sharp contrast from the hectic convulsions of a week ago and—Many brokers hoped—a step along the way to a less emotional market.

Some hesitation was ascribed to a wait-and-see attitude.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2.9 million shares compared with 4.19 million yesterday.

luctance on the part of the commission to recognize the opinions of department heads on policy matters. He asked the board to request him and the county counsel to prepare a "workable personnel policy" which could be used as an outline for a personnel manual.

At the suggestion of Supervisors Peter H. Behr and William D. Fusselman, the board agreed to order Bruce and the commission to submit detailed reports as to policy.

"Then we can find some procedure which is tangible and understood," Behr said. "If members of the personnel commission don't like what we decide, they may feel free to resign."

Supervisor George H. Ludy took issue with the Grand Jury criticism: "I was under the impression we were running a pretty smooth operation. I think 'low morale' is an untruth. I don't know where the jury got its information unless it comes from Mr. Selinger" (Julius H. Selinger, personnel commission chairman and San Rafael lawyer).

Lodge Beaten For GOP Nomination

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a plain-talking, apple-growing congressman, has the Republican nomination for U.S. senator from Connecticut.

Seely-Brown, 54, scored a stunning upset over former Gov. John Davis Lodge yesterday at a dramatic Republican state convention.

Although the pre-convention underdog, he swamped Lodge on the first ballot, 476 to 149.

John Alsop of Avon, an insurance executive, received the gubernatorial nomination earlier after a record eight roll calls that began Tuesday afternoon.

RAIL

bigger and storage needs and costs have increased.

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Unlike earlier Marin witnesses from industrial plants, none spoke of moving out of the county but each had special new problems.

George di Cesare, partner in Di-Wall of 61 Jordan Street, San Rafael, said "time is of the essence" in delivering sheetrock within 24 hours after placement of an order. Twice-weekly ferries have created a cost problem because, he said, "we can't afford to warehouse because there is a small profit margin."

Roy A. Brown, publisher of the Independent-Journal, said circulation is on the increase with a present 32,000 copies daily and therefore a growing problem of newsprint required in a steady flow.

SHIPMENTS VIEW

Formerly shipments could be scheduled by rail and water to come in weekly but now it is not possible to coordinate shipments, said Brown.

Rail service "very satisfactory" before the tunnel fire is "presently very poor," according to Brown. He said the overall result has been to increase need for storage to avoid shortage, with consequent addition of about $5 a ton in cost.

A Sausalito lumber manager, Rudy Melesky of Interbay Lumber Co., said he chose his Gate 1 location because of proximity to the railroad but now can't get lumber by rail from northern California because he understood Northwestern Pacific had "declared an embargo and won't give service."

Karr protested no evidence of embargo had been introduced.

Two liquor distributors wound the shipping witnesses with R. J. Fassi, president of the R. J. Fassi Co. in San Rafael, complaining that he must take Milwaukee beer by rail using the maker's own cars and with retail prices set by the brewery.

Charles I. Daniels, manager of San Rafael's Golden Gate Distributing Co., said he must use rail for whiskey because the truck rate is now much higher.

Present slower rail service causes trouble because delay in delivery to a customer may mean cancellation of an order, he said, so it is necessary to stock more than before.

Final witness of the day was Carroll A. Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, who introduced seven documentary exhibits to show the present rapid Marin County growth in population and economic aspects. He challenged previous testimony of discouraging nature by Daniel T. Daggett, Southern Pacific industrial agent.

Among all the flags of the United Nations, only that of Cyprus bears a map of the country.

OBITUARIES

Wendell P. Harris Succumbs

Col. Wendell P. Harris, of 833 Fawn Drive, San Anselmo, a retired Air Force physician, died Monday at Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he had been hospitalized for the past four weeks.

A native of Boston, Colonel Harris served 22 years in the Air Force, retiring about three years ago. He was 54 years old.

The colonel received his medical training at Vanderbilt University in Georgia. He served in World War II at stations in Okinawa and China, and later held the post of command surgeon of the Northeast Command, stationed in Newfoundland.

Colonel Harris came to California about two years ago. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Harris; a daughter, Mrs. Julie A. Graham, of Santa Barbara; his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Samuel Harris, of San Anselmo; a sister, Mrs. Roma Malseed, of Pomona, and two grandchildren.

B. V. SCHOENINGH

Funeral services were held today in Petaluma for Bernard V. Schoeningh, 56, retired pharmacist and brother of Mrs. Anna McCarthy of San Rafael.

Schoeningh died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital. He was a native of Petaluma and operated a drug store in San Francisco until he retired about 10 years ago. He was a Navy pharmacist during World War II.

He leaves Mrs. McCarthy and a brother, Peter Schoeningh of Sacramento.

Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. Vincent's Church, Petaluma, and funeral arrangements were directed by the Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma. Burial was in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

No Marin Damage By Bay Area Earthquake

Marin residents reported no damage from a light earthquake which shook parts of the Bay Area last night.

Seismologist Don Tocher of the University of California said the quake was centered 50 miles southeast of Berkeley. Damage elsewhere was not reported. It came several hours after a heavier quake knocked plaster from walls in the Ukiah area 100 miles north of here.

As many as one million earthquakes may take place in a single year. Most are harmless, although some cause great damage and loss of life.

Redwood High Play Cites Early Days

Redwood High School's class of 1962 will present its versi of the annual "Senior Far well" Friday at 8 p.m. at th Corte Madera Recreation Cen ter.

A four-act musical play will account the trials and rewards attending the new school in arkspur, which was opened in party - finished condition in September, 1958. Each act is devoted to the events of one year, and features popular music selected mostly from Broadway shows of the period.

The seniors have adopted the technique of the omniscient narrator, which Thornton Wilder utilized so successfully in "Our Town." Larry Gordon is cast in this role.

Four other leading roles portray a group of ambitious students. Playing these supposedly typical characters will be Mike Cooney, Esther Tarics, Nancy Scott, and Bob Mushet.

Tickets will be sold at the door. Proceeds beyond production costs will be used to equip the school's new little theater, which is scheduled for completion before resumption of classes next fall.

The first building in America erected specifically for hotel purposes, the 73-room City Hotel, was opened in 1794 in New York.

Brown Ponders Special Session

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Richard Nixon have their work cut out for them in primary election results still accumulating today.

The Democratic governor's immediate job was to decide whether he'll call a special session of the legislature to resubmit defeated state bond issues to the November ballot.

Brown said he would announce his decision within a few days.

Nixon's obvious assignment was to try and units the Republican Party behind his candidacy for governor. He expressed confidence GOP regulars and conservatives would patch up their differences.

Nixon, who defeated conservative Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of Los Angeles by 2 to 1 in the GOP gubernatorial primary, outlined plans for a harmony meeting with party leaders and candidates soon.

Shell, the choice of 35 per cent of the Republican voters, telegraphed his congratulations to Nixon yesterday. But again he hedged on planting his banner in Nixon's camp.

"We can win in November only if we stand firm without compromising our principles," he said.

Nixon called the primary vote a mandate from California Republicans to move ahead with a program of "progressive conservatism." He hailed the Republican ticket as "the strongest and best balanced in many years."

Returns from Tuesday's balloting magnified the Brown-Nixon margins of victory in their respective primaries. The full extent of their sweeps took shape as more and more of the lagging Los Angeles County vote came in.

The returns signified another close race in the fall for U.S. Senate between Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and Democratic Sen. Richard Richards of Los Angeles.

The continuing count of ballots confirmed renomination of all 16 Democratic and 14 Republican congressmen. Party candidates were selected for eight additional House seats.

Nixon gave no signs of accepting Shell's terms—support for his position on some key issues—but he said he expected to have the backing of all segments of the party.

Brown confined his post-election statements to reasserting confidence that he'll be reelected. For the moment, he was more concerned about the upset of his 970-million-dollar bond program.

STANDARD-BEARERS HAPPY—There was real joy and friendliness when Richard M. Nixon and San Francisco's Mayor George Christopher met in Los Angeles to felicitate each other on Nixon's GOP nomination to oppose Governor Pat Brown in November, and Christopher's nomination as lieutenant governor. A PRIME NEED

Parents Asked To Report Molesting Of Children

Parents' cooperation in reporting child molestation is one of the prime needs in combating the crime, members of the KTIM Sounding Board panel declared today.

Guests panelists of the program moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer were Marin Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety; Inspector Harvey Teague, commander of the Sheriff's Juvenile Bureau; James B. Soetaert, supervising adult probation officer, and Dr. Robert Burke, child psychiatrist.

Garety pointed out that law enforcement agencies are "helpless to cope with the problem of child molesting unless they have the co-operation of parents in reporting the crimes." The district attorney said that when a crime is reported police make a particularly exhaustive investigation, that the identity of the victims is never revealed, and that except in rare instances no harm has resulted from a child's testifying in court. He stressed that much preparation and investigation is made to determine that child will be a competent witness, will tell the truth and not fantasy.

Dr. Burke declared that a child acting as a witness may help him understand all strangers, adults are not criminals.

"Talking about it helps the child see it (the act) in its true perspective," said the pyschiatrist. "The result of a child being molested need not result a warped way of life for him if there is a wholesome attitude and questions are answered as frankly as possible in the home. If parents teach that there is nothing dirty about six or one's body, and if they maintain adequate supervision."

The psychiatrist said that unfortunately he felt many more crimes were committed than reported because of parents' unnecessary fears that their child would relive the crime by talking about or having to identify victims.

The doctor emphasized that many of the offenders are friends, neighbors, or acquaintances of the victim or his family. Soetaert corroborated Dr. Burke's opinion, pointing out that one half of sex offenders convicted are acquainted with their victims.

Among other statistics reported by Soetaert were that the majority of victims are 10 to 15 years old and that 4 per cent are 6 years old or under. He said that the highest rate of offenses are during summer months in an offenders car or residence. Only one half of those convicted have been treatable; the older the less chance they have of rehabilitation, and prognosis for juvenile offenders is "fairly good," said the probation supervisor.

Teague gave several rules for combatting child molesting. Among them "tell your child you will never send a stranger to pick him up, not to play around public restrooms, and not to hitchhike." Teague said that cooperation by Marin school officials with law enforcement agencies is the best of any county in the state.

Garety recommended a pamphlet by the Independent-Journal and the Marin Junior Chamber of Commerce entitled "Safety Is With Friends . . . Not With Strangers," a picture story on rules of avoiding molesters.

Rape-Robbery Second Trial Begins Today

A second jury trial opened this morning in Marin Superior Court for a Richmond garbage man, accused of raping and robbing an attractive Mill Valley school teacher at her home on Dec. 17, 1960.

Lemone Brown, 34, was convicted in February last year for rape, robbery, sex perversion and felony assault. This was reversed by the District Court of Appeals last December on two grounds. The appellate court decided that Brown gave an "admission" because he believed he would then get leniency. Furthermore, the higher court decided that conviction for felony assault on top of the other charges constituted double jeopardy.

The jury picking began this morning before Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court. Prosecutor is Assistant Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, and defending Brown will be Public Defender Peter Allen Smith.

The victim, a 33-year-old divorcee, was living in Mill Valley at the time. Her home was on Brown's garbage route.

Airman Beaten By Pair In Drive-In

Two strangers walked up to an airman and hit him on the head for no reason at all at Burge's Drive-In Restaurant in Ignacio last night, the victim told sheriff's deputies.

Airman Harry W. Alexander of 78th Fighter Wing Headquarters said he and a friend were in their car at Burge's about 11:30 p.m. Two men drove up and went from car to car trying to pick a fight, said Alexander.

The strangers asked him where he was from. Alexander said he told them he was from Hamilton Field, whereupon one of the men swung a fist through the open car window and hit him on the head. The pair then drove away.

Icons Exhibited At Art Showing

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Nine important Russian icons—paintings of traditional religious subjects—collected by the late Joseph E. Davies when he was ambassador to Russia in the late 1930s, have been placed on exhibition at the Milwaukee Art Center.

Davies, who acquired the icons with the help of Soviet authorities, gave his collection to the University of Wisconsin in 1937.

Senior Citizens Needs Due Survey

About 100 volunteers are expected to be needed if a survey of Marin senior citizens and their needs is to be completed by a deadline of July 31, San Francisco private consultant Louis Kuplan reported yesterday.

He made his report to the senior citizens programming and building committee appointed by the Marin County board of supervisors. The committee met for lunch at King Cotton, San Rafael.

The volunteers could help his firm finish the survey in the time promised to the supervisors, he said. They would circulate questionnaires his firm is preparing to nearly 600 Marin residents in the senior age bracket.

Kuplan told the committee, headed by Harry Heifetz of San Rafael, that he had interviewed about 20 civic and business leaders and planned to talk with about 20 more.

He said the complexities of obtaining valid statistics in time to write an authoritative report appear to require volunteers to replace questioners apparently no longer available to him.

The eight-page questionnaires contain more than 40 questions and cover 250 items. They are designed to evoke "the image of the Marin senior citizen"—what his average is, how he lives, his needs and wants.

Kuplan said yesterday he had agreed to accept less than his standard fee because of difficulty of obtaining county funds and because no such survey had been made in any other California county. (A fee of $6,200 was included in his original proposal.)

It was agreed that the committee would meet at King Cotton again at noon June 20 for a further progress report.

Sausalito Car Stolen

Alfred Kirby reported to Sausalito police yesterday that his four-door 1956 grey Oldsmobile sedan was taken from in front of his home at 180 Bulkley Avenue sometime between 11 p.m. Tuesday and 8:30 a.m. yesterday.

Effort On To Ban 'Baptist' Book

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Strong support was indicated at the Southern Baptist Convention today for a move to tighten the doctrinal reins on seminaries and other denominational agencies.

An effort also was being pushed to ban a Baptist-published book, "The Message of Genesis."

Such a step, however, described as unprecedented in Baptist history, faced keen opposition from influential church leaders.

Both proposals came on a tide of charges by conservative forces that so-called "liberal" theological trends were evident in church institutions. Demands were made for stricter controls.

The issue has stirred a running controversy in the 10-million-member church body in recent times.

The denomination's 51-member executive committee sought to head off an open clash on the matter yesterday by putting through a plan for drafting a statement on just what historic Baptists beliefs are.

Baptists have always shunned binding creeds.

However, the maneuver failed to check the calls for stronger action.

The Rev. Dr. K. Owen White of Houston introduced a resolution protesting "dissemination of theological views in any of our seminaries which would undermine faith in this historical accuracy and doctrinal integrity of the Bible."

The views disapproved were not specified.

However, another minister, The Rev. Ralph Powell, of Kansas City, leveled the book-banning resolution at the recently issued "The Message of Genesis" by Dr. Ralph Elliott, an Old Testament scholar.

Powell's proposal asks that the denominational publishing house, Broadman Press, recall all copies of the book, and cease circulating it.

In it, Dr. Elliott, of Midwestern Theological Seminary, Kansas City, supports the views that parts of the religious truths expressed in Genesis are couched in parable rather than literal terms.

The convention yesterday reelected The Rev. Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs of Oklahoma City to a second term as president.

Seminary Reports Stricter Requirements For Entrance

Entrance requirements at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry Point were more strict this year, the 1962 Southern Baptist Convention at San Francisco was told today in a report from Harold K. Graves, president of the school.

Graves, in a report on seminaries and seminary extension, told the convention at San Francisco Civic Auditorium that the student body in six seminaries has declined since 1957, even though entrance applications have reached a record high level.

One of the major achievements of the Golden Gate seminary, Graves reported, was full accreditation by the American Association of Theological Schools in December, 1961.

The graduate school at Strawberry Point is nearing completion of its third year.

A total of 539 students have received diplomas from Golden Gate through the 1961 commencement. Approximately 80 students were candidates for degrees at the 1962 commencement.

The school has 220 men enrolled in the bachelor of divinity program. Forty-six of these were graduated from the three-year curriculum.

Nineteen of the 63 students enrolled in the master of religious education program last year were graduated.

The only advanced degree offered at the seminary is the master of theology, in which 27 men were enrolled this past year, the convention was told.

The Baptist convention, which will end tomorrow, included a Mississippi College luncheon today at the Strawberry Point campus. The Golden Gate trustees will meet at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the campus.

Excuse Didn't Work For 'Late' Student

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—"It's your fault," the tardy second grader explained to his teacher. "You gave me so much homework last night, we missed the first movie and had to catch the last one."

City School Supt. W. H. Oliver said the teacher did not accept the youngster's explanation as an excuse for tardiness.

'Sick,' Says Marilyn; Producers Say Ditto

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe says she's sick and her producers say they're sick and tired.

Marilyn, complaining of a virus, showed up only once in the first 15 days of shooting on "Something's Got to Give."

"Even when she does show up," said a high front-office source at 20th Century-Fox, "she isn't prepared for her role. She comes late and leaves early."

The studio source, who asked anonymity, hinted yesterday that producers are ready to look for a replacement—possibly Kim Novak.

"Something has to be done with these unprofessional people," the source said. "We have to sit down on them or else forget about the industry. They're ruining it." He said Marilyn's absenteeism has already cost the studio two million dollars.

Said Harry Weinstein, producer of her current film: "There has to be an agonizing reappraisal of the situation. We have to decide whether Marilyn can recover in time to continue with production and if the studio can stand further delays."

Sleepy Hollow Student Due Legion Medal

A sixth grade student at Sleepy Hollow School, San Anselmo, will receive a medal tomorrow from San Anselmo Unit 179, American Legion Auxiliary, for writing the winning essay in a five-county district Americanism contest.

She is Christine Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Porter, of 5 Luzane Circle, San Anselmo. She competed against contestants in five counties in the fourth through sixth grade bracket, writing an essay on "Why I salute the American Flag."

The medal will be presented by Mrs. John Bodeen, the auxiliary's Americanism chairman.

College Of Marin Teacher Gets Fulbright For Germany

James L. Heig, 30, has become the first teacher in the history of College of Marin to receive a Fulbright Scholarship to teach abroad, College President Dr. Stephen E. Epler announced today.

Heig, an instructor in English and journalism, will teach in Germany during the 1962-63 school year.

The award makes possible an exchange between Heig and a teacher from Germany. Heig will teach English, literature and history at the Helene Lange Schule, a girls' school in Frankfurt, and Dr. Ursual Burgel, member of the Helene Langue Schule faculty, will teach French and German at College of Marin.

With Dr. Burgel, a widow, will come her son Wolfgang, 18, who is expected to enroll at College of Marin in September. Living accommodations for them have not yet been arranged.

Word of Heig's award was received from the U.S. State Department, which administers the teacher exchange program. The award is one of 450 grants for teaching abroad made for the coming school year. Thirty countries now participate in the teacher exchanges.

Heig applied for the scholarship last fall and obtained a conditional leave of absence then.

He will leave the United States next month and return in August, 1963. The State Department pays for his travel to and from Germany. He will receive a salary equal to that paid to a German teacher with similar experience.

"I'd like to arrange to live with two or three different German families while I'm in Frankfurt," said Heig. "My experience in Germany and with the German people will be more meaningful that way."

The school Heig will teach in is a university preparatory known as a "gymnasium." The school serves the 10 to 19 year old group, roughly the equivalent of the fifth grade through the first two years of college in the United States.

Heig joined the College of Marin faculty in 1959, after completing a Ford Foundation program, training for junior college teaching.

He attended University of South Dakota before serving a four-year enlistment in the Air Force. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the Sacramento State College and a Master of Arts degree in the same subject from University of California at Berkeley.

He worked as a copywriter for Bank of America before entering the Ford Foundation program.

Mill Valley Council Wants More Control

Mill Valley city council members last night instructed the planning commission not to write letters concerning city policy without first checking with the council.

It seems, Councilman Michael Wornum said, the commission wrote a letter to Northwestern Pacific Railroad stating it favors abandonment of the firm's line through the Puerto Suello Tunnel in San Rafael.

Wornum lamented the council's change in viewpoint saying "first we favored abandonment. Then we became neutral. Now the planning commission writes a letter favoring abandonment. Don't you think it should see what the other arm of the government is doing?" his fellow councilmen nodded yes.

Nature Big Help To Lazy Gardener

Dominican College Will Conduct Summer Session On Atlantic Isle

Dominican College of San Rafael will open its first off-campus summer session on the Atlantic seaboard at historic Clark's Island acres in Plymouth Harbor next month.

A six-week course, with credits from Dominican's Department of American Civilization, will be given from July 16 to Aug. 24. Clark's Island, near Duxbury, Mass., is owned by Sarah Wingate Taylor, associate professor of English at Dominican. She will teach a two-hour course in New England literature plus a two-hour course in creative writing.

Mrs. Mary Hunt Morgan, former director of physical education at Dominican, will teach recreational activities. Booked tentatively for further activities in American folk art and music is Marston Morgan, senior in architecture at the University of Oregon.

The course will also feature tours of New England literary and historic shrines.

Miss Taylor's ancestor, Elkanah Watson, bought Clark's Island from the Town of Plymouth in 1690. In the midst of an open field stands a boulder 12 feet high, known as Election Rock. Here on Dec. 20, 1620, 10 Pilgrim fathers and eight of the Mayflower crew spent their Sabbath.

Students attending the summer session will use historic buildings as dormitories. A part of Old House dates back prior to 1690, the main structure from 1786, and Cedarfield, the Cape Cod cottage which Miss Taylor occupies as her summer home, dates from 1836.

In addition, a boathouse known as Hop House and the Cedarfield Barn may serve as overflow dormitories.

"Living on Clark's Island today is as close to nature as in the days of our forebears," says Miss Taylor. Travel is by footpath, lighting by candles and oil lamp. Water is drawn by hand from a well. A degree of piping is expected to be installed this summer.

Miss Taylor has just published "Yankee Island Ballads and Other Poems," in which she writes of her ancestral New England shore. One section of the book is titled "Pilgrim West," which describes Marin County and the local color of the West Coast.

U.S. Cats And Dogs Are Getting Company

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans, who always have liked pets, are veering to the unusual—chameleons, iguanas, baby alligators, horned toads, hamsters — says Wyman L. Hammond, head of pet operations for the F. W. Woolworth Co.

Hammond said the chain sold 10,000 chameleons, 750,000 turtles, 500,000 birds and four million fish during 1961.

MASTER PLAN FOR NOVATO STIRS ROW

Council Asks Planning Staff Aid With Mayor In Vehement Opposition

The Novato city council by a three to one vote last night asked the county planning staff to prepare a partial land use resolution for adoption at its meeting next Tuesday night.

Mayor M. E. (Babe) Silva cast the dissenting vote, stating "I do not believe in a master plan." Councilman Lucille Cannon was absent.

Silva said he would never vote to adopt a master plan. Any such land use map should be used as a guide only and not as a plan, he stated.

Robert Lagle, member of the county planning staff which has revised the original North Marin master plan for the city, reminded the mayor that the city has a $60,800 federally assisted planning study now underway.

"I know," Silva nodded in assent. Master plans become "set rules" and requests are turned down "because they are different from the plan," Silva stated.

Each parcel of land should be "judged on its own merits" Silva told Lagle.

This exchange came after more than two hours of discussion on a proposed map of land use for the North Marin watershed. Lagle presented the partial land use elements of the master plan to the council.

Industrial areas shown on the map include: an area north of Hamilton Air Force Base and east of Highway 101; north of Highway 37 and east of Highway 101; between Highway 101 and the railroad north of Olive Avenue and another east of Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue.

Commercial areas in the proposed map include: the present business area in Ignacio; an area west of Highway 101 north of South Novato Boulevard; the triangle between Center Road, Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard; and the present downtown business area roughly bounded by Sixth Street, Industrial Way, Vallejo Avenue and east to the railroad.

Multiple dwelling areas include: the ones on Hamilton Air Force Base and Raphael Village; the area bounded by Vallejo and Olive Avenues, First to Fourth Streets; an area beside De Long and Reichert Avenues on the hill south of the city hall and the area west of Highway 101 south of Sunset Parkway and north of the commercial zone.

All the rest of the area in the Novato Creek watershed was zoned single family dwelling except the extremely rough hillsides which were left for primitive areas.

Owners or representatives of six parcels of property asked for a change in zone from the proposed map. They were told by the council that the map would be adopted as drawn. Any variation must go through the planning commission and then to the city council.

Hub Council Looks Over Indicated $622,000 Budget

San Anselmo City Council last night opened its budget hearings for the coming fiscal year with an indicated budget of $622,000, about the same as last year.

City Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel explained that the tax rate will go up from $1.25 to $1.87, but this only a mechanical change and will not affect the amount of taxes paid by each property owner. The change in tax rate is made necessary because the city will turn over assessment and tax collections to the county from the next fiscal year.

In past years, San Anselmo's assessments were based on 35 per cent of market value. The county's assessments are based on 23 per cent of market value. Therefore, the raise in tax rate from $1.25 to $1.87 will bring in the same income, because the $1.87 rate will be applied to a lower (23 per cent) assessed valuation.

San Anselmo city fathers will continue budget hearings tonight at 8 o'clock and possibly Monday night.

Carmel Booth Will Be In Supervisor Runoff

Mrs. Carmel Booth, former mayor and councilman in San Anselmo, is in the thick of a political battle in Lake County.

She faces a runoff election in November for Lake County supervisor against rancher-businessman Donald Griner. Mrs. Booth came out second best in a three-way race for supervisor in Tuesday's primary election.

Griner polled 521 votes, Mrs. Booth 479, and cannery owner Donald Martinelli was eliminated with 302 votes.

Since moving to Lake County, Mrs. Booth has been dubbed the "gnat lady" for her relentless campaign to rid the county of gnats.

Cigarette Blamed For Fire In Mill Valley

Fire caused $500 damage to belongings in the home of Ronald M. Sarin of 88 Cypress Avenue, Mill Valley at 3:15 a.m. today.

It apparently started when a cigarette was dropped into the couch of the downstairs apartment, James Mathews, assistant fire chief said. The couch, being slept upon by H. R. Schuler, Sarin's guest, was destroyed and a night stand and some wall paneling stored in the room damaged. There were no injuries.

Barkley Statue

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A statue of the late Vice President Alben Barkley, will be erected in the state capitol rotunda in 1963. Barkley, a native Kentuckian, died in 1956. His statue is being done in bronze by Walter Hancock of Gloucester, Mass.

Mill Valley Council Moves Against More Apartments

Mill Valley city fathers in a long meeting last night continued their current rampage against more apartment development in that city.

The city council voted 4-0, Councilman Michael Wornum abstaining, to uphold planning commission recommendation for denial of plan approval to John Estes to build 11 apartments at 279 Miller Avenue.

The council also put over to June 20 action on a proposed interim ordinance to freeze apartments to a blanket 2,500 square feet per unit. Required lot areas now are divided in two classifications, 1,500 and 2,000 square feet per unit.

The freeze request of four councilmen was put over after Councilman Michael Wornum argued vehemently against the council acting on a matter which had not been placed on the agenda.

Wornum said that he knew nothing about it coming up although the other councilmen said they knew about it, he said he was against acting on interim zoning ordinances because they are bad planning and said that they should especially not be considered late in the evening.

Basis for denying the 11-unit apartment house was because it was not in keeping with the character of Mill Valley. A letter protesting the apartment project was read from. Rev. John A. Mac Donald, pastor of the adjoining First Baptist Church.

Estes objected to the denial saying that Mill Valley has "quite a few" of this type of apartment building and said "I think a character type has been established." The apartments were contemporary in design. Wornum abstained since his former partner had worked on the plans.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said the proposed change in footage for apartment units was introduced "because there seems to be a rush to get apartments in under the deadline." The planning commission is studying a proposed change in the square footage per unit.

At 1:50 this morning Councilman George Blackwell suggested that the city council hereafter adjourn meetings at midnight as is done in Sausalito. Blackwell advised adjuorning to the following Wednesday.

Councilman William M. Secor suggested setting a time limit on certain agenda items and Wornum commented "I don't think you get the best service at this time." It was decided to try another meeting on the present basis.

The council announced it would study at its budget hearing session Saturday, between 10 a.m. and noon, a proposed Glen Drive assessment district. Four citizens, Lewis M. Simes, George E. Tobin, Robert W. Weis and Charles G. Zoslaw, have asked the city for improvement of city easement drainage structure on Glen Drive since they claim present structures are disintegrating and endangering their homes. Simes said Zoslaw's home has dropped three inches. The men propose to contribute $3,000 toward the district.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Rejected planning commission recommendation to rezone certain lots on Ethel Avenue near Montford Avenue from residential and commercial to duplex.
2. Put over an appeal from 39 citizens for a reconsideration of a subdivision, already granted, to J. Rotary and E. Andrews on Summit Avenue near Marguerite Avenue.
3. Approved 5-0 an amendment to an ordinance for average widths or slope for all subdivisions, developer John Estes objecting saying, if approved, it would rezone many areas of the city.
4. Heard Planning Commissioner Ruth Gustafson say that the commission and council "is inclined to substitute laws and ordinances and amendments for more caution and study on certain matters."
5. Voted 3-2, Blackwell and Wornum dissenting, that the master plan show the northwest corner of Camino Alto and East Blithedale Avenue, about four acres, as professional-administrative area.
6. Approved a street light for Sunrise Avenue and James Street.
7. Put over for discussion at Saturday's budget hearing a request from citizens for an all year, after school recreation program at Old Mill School.
8. Heard report from Sheeks that the "door is open" to Sherrill Broudy Associates of Oakland to present new plans for developing Enchanted Knolls property and heard Broudy's letter to Sheeks in which Broudy said the council is using a "police state approach" and "planning through court action." The council asked the planning commission to move along with Enchanted Knolls zoning.

Cyclist Keeps Quiet Over New Proposal

Mill Valley cyclist hero Jerome C. Hauke, who raised a ruckus of laughter before the city council last May 16 when he protested provisions of a proposed bicycle ordinance, last night was as quiet as a mouse over a new proposed ordinance.

The council was informed by Police Chief Dan Terzich, who met with Hauke as a committee of two, that "we got together and resolved our difficulties." Terzich said they discarded the Belvedere ordinance which was about 11 pages for a Sausalito ordinance which is one page. He added that a few minor changes had been made.

Councilmen referred the ordinance to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan.

The ordinance is proposed by Terzich primarily to safeguard return of lost bicycles. It proposes that all bikes be registered through the police at the schools for the first year, that the fiscal department collect a 50-cent charge for issuance of a paper license sticker, or decal. The license would be issued on a Sept. 1 to Sept. 1 basis.

Janitor Arrested Again On Child Molester Charge

A Corte Madera janitor, who has been arrested several times for offering rides to little girls, was re-arrested yesterday on the recommendation of Probation Officer David Cooper and Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court ordered Kenneth LeRoy Richards, 27, of 5116 Paradise Drive be held in Marin County Jail for a Monday hearing to determine whether he should be examined as a sexual psycopath.

Richards was arrested last year for bothering children, was examined at Atascadero State Hospital, and released last January. Last month, police arrested him on a charge of trying to lure girls of Larkspur-Corte Madera School into his car.

While this charge was pending, Richards was arrested again last Monday on a charge of offering a ride to a 5-year-old girl on Wolfe Grade. He was then released on his own recognizance in Marin Municipal Court.

Probation Officer Cooper told Superior Court Judge Keating yesterday that he considers Richards a menace. He asked that his probation be revoked and he be taken into custody. Richards is on probation for a $260 check forgery committed last July.

Leghorn Hen Has Peg-Leg

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP) — The conversation piece at Pete Brown's is a peg-legged Leghorn hen which scratches for worms with the handicapped leg.

The hen lost her leg in a trap, has outgrown one artificial limb and is about to grow too large for the second.

"I knew she was going to make it when she began scratching for worms with that wooden leg," said Brown.

City Takes Step Toward Library Site

The Mill Valley city council last night took a step toward city acquisition of a parcel of land for the proposed new library.

By unanimous vote, it approved first reading of a resolution of intent to acquire and condemn the land of Roy A. Ibach located at Miller and Presidio Avenues and now used as a storage yard by the Mill Valley Lumber Co. The site was one of three considered and recommended by the library board.

Condemnation proceedings were opposed by owner Ibach in a letter to the council.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks told his colleagues the council deserves a "pat on the back" since "we usually get nothing but kicks and blows. For the first time we're beginning to see the fruits of our advanced planning and pay as you go planning for financing public projects."

He added that the council levied a five-cent tax two years ago to accumulate funds for the site and soon, he said, there will be $40,000 in the fund. This means no bond issue, Sheeks said.

Graham Choir Leader Sees Reverse Role

CHICAGO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham has an assistant who says their roles may be reversed when they get to heaven.

Cliff Barrows, who directs the 2,000-voice choir for Graham's Crusade for Christ in Chicago, says: "I tell Billy that when we get to heaven, there won't be any need for his preaching. But there will be plenty of music, and maybe they'll put me in charge.

Barrows joined the Graham organization while on his honeymoon in 1945. Barrows and his wife decided to attend a youth conference in Asheville, N.C., at which a young evangelist, Billy Graham, was speaking.

When the regular song leader didn't show up, Graham asked Barrows, an ordained Baptist minister, to take over. He has been with Graham ever since.

Barrows also directs "The Hour of Decision" radio and television programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows have five children, including a son born yesterday. The boy, Graham announced to 29,000 persons at last night's rally at McCormick Place, has been named in honor of the evangelist.

Graham said in his sermon there is a movement afoot in America "to take the Bible out of our national life.'

"If this movement succeeds," Graham declared, "then 'In God we trust' will be removed from our coins, the Bible will be taken out of the courtroom, future presidents will be sworn in with their hands on the Constitution, and chaplains will disappear from the Congress and the Armed Forces.

Graham said: "If the Bible goes down, then anarchy will rear its ugly head. This will be followed by savagery such as the earth has never known. This generation must face the fact that it is either back to the Bible or back to the jungle."

Stage Fright One Topic In Voice Course

PAUL J. MOSES
Speech defect lecturer

Stage fright will be one of the speech problems discussed during a week-long series of lectures on the "Psychology of Voice and Speech Disorders" presented 2 to 4 p. m., July 9 through 13, at Dominican College Summer School in San Rafael.

Dr. Paul J. Moses, San Francisco laryngologist and author of "The Voice of Neurosis," will deliver the lectures. He will also discuss the symptoms, correction and psychology of other voice and speech problems.

One unit of credit for the course will be offered.

Besides maintaining a private practice, Dr. Moses is director of the Presbyterian Medical Center clinic for speech and voice diseases and associate clinical professor of the Stanford School of Medicine.

Toward Better Plowing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tip for farmers: U.S. Department of Agriculture engineers say covering plows with sheet plastic to keep soil from sticking to them may be an answer to this perennial problem in farming.

Taxpayers Make Math Mistakes

CHICAGO (AP)—A record of two and a half million taxpayers made mistakes in arithmetic last year.

The Commerce Clearing House reports that it represented an increase of 24 per cent.

Additional tax bills averaging $84 each were sent to the 1,570,000 taxpayers who didn't pay their full tax, based on their own figures.

Refunds, on the other hand, averaged $70 each and were sent to 931,000 taxpayers who paid more than they should have when their returns were mathematically verified by the Internal Revenue Service.

And They Might Want A Union

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Buffalo's Mayor Chester Kowal, looking for new sources of revenue for the city, suggested putting the zoo animals to work.

Why couldn't the baby elephant and the camel be saddled up to give children rides for a fee, the mayor asked.

He was told a professional trainer would have to be hired first. Then, any profits left would probably be eaten up by insurance costs, his advisers said.

The suggestion is quietly pending.

Boy Shot To Death For Crossing Lawn

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 14-year-old suburban boy was shot to death last night by a neighbor who had objected to teen-agers walking across his lawn.

Oliver Warren was struck in the left temple by a .22-caliber slug. He died a short time after arrival at a hospital. The boy was scheduled to graduate from eighth grade tomorrow.

Lt. Walter Weingart, of the Cook County Sheriff's Police, said Quinn Kent, 28, a paint mixer, admitted firing at the ground on a vacant lot which the Warren boy and a companion were crossing on their way home from a sandlot baseball game.

Weingart said Kent told him, "a bullet could have struck a stone and then hit the boy."

The Warren boy's companion, Gerald Girnus, 14, said they had been playing baseball on a vacant lot next to the Kent home. When the game broke up, young Warren and Girnus walked across the Kent lawn.

The Girnus boy said Mrs. Ossie Kent, 67, mother of Quinn, opened a window and "cussed" at them.

Pickets Keep Cool Down Mexico Way

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico (AP)—Telephone employees here went on strike and set up picket lines around the company building.

When the temperature reached 82 degrees, the pickets moved across the street and continued their pacing beneath some tall shade trees.

Peninsula City Project Opposed

Incorporation of the Tiburon Peninsula has been opposed unanimously by the Marin County Housing Authority Commission on the basis that incorporation would increase the commission's overall expenses.

The authority controls the Hilarita housing project on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Alton Lerch, vice chairman, said the proposed incorporation would mean an increase in costs to the authority.

Secondly, he said, "there would be an uncertainty of the Future of the Hilarita project."

A fast-moving fashion show of men's sportswear styles was given on a fast commuter train between Stamford, Conn. and New York City when male models in shorts, shirts and slacks paraded through the 13 coaches to catch the eyes of passengers who dress for business in New York and for casual ease in the suburbs. Sign Stands For Cars, Too

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—An irate motorist whose car was towed from a downtown street during the evening rush hour recently, complained to police:

"I just put a nickel in the meter a moment before. I don't understand how they could have towed it."

When the police captain explained that the car had been in a "No Standing" zone, the youthful motorist gasped: "Gosh, I didn't know that 'No Standing' applied to cars. I thought it just meant people."

Truman Outdraws Wyatt Earp

LAMAR, Mo. (AP)—Harry Truman outdraws Wyatt Earp in this small southwestern Missouri town.

Visitors come in increasing numbers to see the old frame house where former President Truman was born. Few, however, ask about Earp, famed frontier lawman who was Lamar's first marshal.

Financial Aid For Kennedy

BOSTON (AP) — Newell Garden, an electronics company employee, says he knew President John F. Kennedy when he didn't have a dime.

Garden relates how he met Kennedy at LaGuardia Airport, New York, when Kennedy was in the Senate.

"How are you, senator?" Garden asked.

"I need a dime to call my home in Hyannisport," Kennedy replied. Garden accommodated.

Kennedy reversed the charge to Hyannisport.

It is not considered profitable to over-winter bee colonies in colder parts of the United States and in Canada.

As One Pet To Another

CHARLTON, Mass. (AP)—A 14-year-old German Shepherd is the receptionist at Dr. Terry Mills' pet infirmary.

Gertrude greets all animals brought to the infirmary for treatment.

Dr. Mills says, "It has a quieting effect when the patient sees Gertrude, obviously not being tortured, so relaxed."

"Gertrude definitely exerts a phychological influence," Dr. Mills added. "Some of her peace of mind rubs off on patients."

Old Life-Termer Rejects Parole

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP)—Donociano Comancho, 74-year-old life-termer, is permitted to live in a little house of his own outside the walls of the Arizona State Prison.

He putters around in a small garden and takes care of his six cats.

Comancho, who already has served 31 years for the depression days murder of a bootlegger partner, was offered a parole, but he turned it down.

"I have my garden in," he explained. "I must stay here and take care of it."

Dodgers Challenge Giants' Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Operation overhaul has moved into its second stage for the Los Angeles Dodgers, tearing toward the top again in that two-team struggle for supremacy in the National League.

Reeling off their second victory streak in an attempt to catch front-running San Francisco, the Dodgers upped their latest string to four games by winning a pair from Pittsburgh last night—8-3 in the completion of Tuesday's suspended game and 5-3 in the regulation contest.

The Giants, who have held first place since a 10-game streak placed them on top April 30, lost to the Chicago Cubs 4-3.

St. Louis dropped third-place Cincinnati 7½ games back by edging the Reds 4-3, Milwaukee beat Houston 6-3 and Philadelphia extended the Mets' losing skid to 17 by sweeping a twi-nighter 2-0 and 2-1.

In the American League, New York took over first place and dropped Cleveland to second with a 5-0 triumph over the Indians, Minnesota regained third by blanking Kansas City 7-0, the Los Angeles Angels nipped Chicago's White Sox 1-0, Washington edged Baltimore 2-1 and Boston and Detroit split. The Red Sox won a day game 2-1 and the Tigers took a nighter 3-2 in 11 innings.

The Dodgers snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning of the regulation game on Ron Fairly's two-run homer off Joe Gibbon (0-1), then put it away with two in the eighth. The Pirates chased rookie Joe Moeller (4-4) in the ninth with two walks and a single. Ed Roebuck yielded a run on Dick Stuart's single before Ron Perranoski came on to get the final out.

In the one-inning windup of the suspended game, the Dodgers tacked on a run while Sandy Koufax set the Pirates down in order to preserve the victory for Don Drysdale (9-3). Bob Friend (5-7) was the loser.

Giants reliever Don Larsen (3-1) walked four consecutive Cub batters in the ninth, giving the last free pass to Don Landrum to break a 3-3 tie as Lou Brock crossed with the winner. The Giants had tied it in the ninth. Dick Ellsworth (4-7) went the distance for the victory.

Red Schondienst's pinch-hit single drove in the run that snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh and the Cards added the clincher against the Reds in the eighth on a single by Stan Musial and three walks by Joey Jay (8-5). Larry Jackson (5-6) went the route for the victory.

Making his first start since April 29 for Milwaukee, Lew Burdette allowed a dozen hits. An eight-hit attack was enough to beat the Colts. Jim Golden (3-3) was the loser.

Tight pitching won both games for the Phils with Cal McLish (5-1) grabbing the opener with a seven-hitter and Art Mahaffey (6-7) nailing the nightcap with a four-hitter. In the first game Roger Craig (2-8) took the loss. Wes Covington tagged Al Jackson (2-7) with the second game defeat when he lashed a pinch-hit single to score Bob Oldis in the ninth and break a 1-1 deadlock.

Warriors In S.F. For Visit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Eddie Gottlieb rejoined the transplanted Philadelphia Warriors today as general manager only two weeks after selling out as their owner, but the status of Coach Frank McGuire remained in doubt.

Gottlieb checked into town last night with some of the San Francisco Warriors' new owners and the club's most prized asset — Wilt Chamberlain.

During a press conference at the airport, club chairman Matty Simmons unveiled Gottlieb as the general manager. Eddie, a Warrior owner and coach during his 16 years with the team, holds a one-year contract in his post with the pro basketball team.

Simmons also said that McGuire still has two years to go as head coach.

NOT INTERESTED

And that's about all he did say on the matter. For McGuire has been known to be uninterested in moving west. Last April he was looking into the possibility of coaching at the University of South Carolina. At this time, however, the veteran mentor said that he was unable to free himself from his Warrior pact.

"We hope to name our coach within a week or two," Simmons said. He would not comment on whether McGuire might do a "Gottlieb" and work for the west coast group.

"I felt that I should help in every way possible," said Gottlieb, who sold out his interest in the Philadelphia club for some $350,000 as part of an $850,000 deal.

"Eddie came out here because we asked him to and he was pleased to do it," Simmons put it.

Tom Gray, local businessman, will be the club president.

SUIT PENDING

Simmons also backed off from any discussion of the San Francisco Saints, the rival American Basketball League club, who have announced they will sue the National Basketball League club, who have announced they will sue the National Basketball Assn. for three million dollars in an anti-trust suit.

"We've nothing to say," Simmons declared. "We intend to run our own store."

However, there was some discussion of whether Chamberlain might join the Saints after his three-year contract expires with the Warriors at the end of next season.

"In the NBA a player's contract has a reserve clause just as in baseball," Gottlieb said.

Winter Semi-Pro League Proposed; Local Keglers Cop Classic Titles

The new Marin Semi-Pro Baseball League, which launches its summer session this Sunday, already is discussing possibilities of a winter league.

Possible additions to the present four-team circuit for the winter program are Novato, Hamilton AFB, Tiburon and San Quentin. The latter would play all home games, natch.

The semi-pro league also has scheduled an All-Star attraction at the conclusion of its regular summer session Aug. 26. Two possibilities: All Stars from the four league teams to oppose an outstanding San Francisco club; or top stars from San Rafael-Mill Valley areas vs. All-Stars from the two San Anselmo entries. We favor the latter for its strictly local appeal.

A LOT OF recognition should be in store for some of Marin County's better bowlers, who this past winter season bowled in two of San Francisco's classic leagues. Bowling for Awards Unlimited in the 950 All Star Classic at the Sport Center, such notables as Marin's Dick Treadway, Forry Wilson, Phil Wallace, Don Stevens, Walt Silva and Holmes Christian won the league by three and a half games. Their averagesages ranged from 190 to 183. Not bad!

In the Brentwood 925 Classic, bowling under the name of Greenbrae Lanes, Phil Wallace, Don Fredette, Robert Curtin, Ed Clinton, Spence Ward and Willie Corda combined their talents to walk away with the league by seven and a half games. Their averages ranged from 191 to 183. Both leagues contained some of the best bowlers in the Bay Area. Congratulations, men!

WALTER MAILS, speaking to a high school whose baseball team lost all 17 games, remarked: "You must have the strongest team in the league, holding up all the other clubs like that."

PETALUMA RANCHER Bill Beffa, the 26-year-old walking machine, won the 16¼-mile Sonoma-Petaluma walkathon last weekend for the fourth consecutive year in the record time of 2 hours, 17 minutes, 18 seconds. His nearest competitor was some 10 minutes behind, so you might say he won in a walk.

WHAT THEY'RE Doing Today Dept.: Carl Anaclerio, former College of Marin standout athlete, coached Tomales High to the North Bay League Section II championship this season, that school's first title in some time.

SAN RAFAEL'S Rich Johnson beat all comers last weekend in the Vaca Valley drag races near Vacaville. He had top speed of 101.23 mph to take home the trophy in Class P.X.

MARIN baseballer Bob Nunnally of 146 San Rafael Avenue, San Rafael, will be missing from the semi-pro scene this summer, and for good reason: He's presently boot-camping it in the U.S. Marine Corps, San Diego.

ED RUDLOFF of Ross, who'll head the Department of Health and Physical Education at the new Sonoma State College at Cotati, says Sonoma's first intercollegiate athletic competition during the 1962-63 school year will include varsity and freshman swimming, golf and tennis.

The following year the college plans to add football, basketball, track, baseball, gymnastics and wrestling. "All facilities for major competition," notes Rudloff, "will be complete by September of 1963."

Bear Crew Hopes For Third In Row

BERKELEY (UPI) — California Crew Coach Jim Lemmon announced yesterday the Bears will send a 12-man traveling squad to the IRA Regatta in search of their third straight victory.

The defending champions, including three veterans of last year's victory, have drawn lane 10 for the three-mile race on Lake Onondoga at Syracuse, N.Y., June 16. They will depart Monday.

MARIN SEMI PRO PROSPECTS

M.V. Hard Hitting Club

(Second in a series on prospects of teams in the Marin Semi-Pro Baseball League.)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The Mill Valley Merchants may score a lot of runs in the new Marin Semi-Pro League, they're faced with the lack of a left handed pitcher.

Scoring a total of 19 runs in two practice games, the Merchants have shown a scoring power. They lost a 14-9 game against Sabella's of San Francisco and played San Anselmo to a nine-inning 10-10 deadlock.

Manager of the Mill Valley Merchants is Bob Selna, starting his second year at the reigns. Selna was a catcher and first baseman back in his high school days at Balboa in San Francisco.

Selna played ball with the Seventh Armored Division of the Army for two years after high school. He also played for the Mill Valley Merchants for three years.

POWERFUL FOES

Selna realizes the lack of southpaws on his squad will hamper chances for a championship, but promises, "We will have a good club and will score a lot of runs." Selna says the Ongaro nine of San Anselmo and the Billings-Hutchison squad of San Rafael "seem to be very powerful the way it now looks."

Selna is looking toward a couple of Tam High baseballers who figure to loom big on the squad, Dave Perlis and Fred Mack, two of six right handers who will be called upon to pitch.

Perlis is a good pitcher and a long ball hitting outfielder when not on the rubber. Selna feels Perlis will be flocked with professional league offers after graduation this month.

Mack doubles as a pitcher and catcher. And he's a proven workhorse—pitching three consecutive days as he helped Tam High capture the Marin County Athletic League Easter Tournament in April.

Keith Frazer probably will see a lot of action on the mound for the Merchants. Frazer was a twirler for University of California two years ago. Using a good curve and deceptive change up, he limited the powerful Ongaro team to only one hit in five innings during their practice game.

ALL-COUNTY STAR

Mike Wyman is a pitcher who also feels at home at the shortstop position. A real quick man on the bases, Wyman was all-county when he played high school ball at Tamalpais.

The two other right-armed pitchers on the squad are Charlie Johnston and Tom Basile.

The man with the big bat for the Merchants will be veteran Don Palaia, who has been playing in the local semi-pros for seven years. Hitting both for power and average, the utility man boasts a .387 batting average for the seven years of play.

Sandy Slack, a sharp fielding third baseman for the Merchants, is picked by manager Selna to be one of the best third sackers in the league.

GRIDDER, TOO

Jim Lucas, a star end for the College of Marin football squad, will be fighting for a starting berth at first base. Lucas is a power hitter with quick reflexes who played first base for the Mill Valley Merchants last year.

Also battling for the first sack spot is Ed Kemp, a veteran player starting his 10th year in the semi-pros. Kemp is a lefty, Lucas is a right hander.

Fred Shotwell and Dick Bowers, both of whom have been out of competition for the last couple of years, will be gunning for the second base position. Both have looked good in practice, reported Selna.

Jack Hendrickson, a utility fielder, is probably the fastest man in the league, that is at

MARIN PROP WASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Water Skiers Plan A Dry Run; New Convenience At Rod-Gun Club

Isn't it grand to be a member of the Great Boating Fraternity? And there's an emotion involved that's beyond belief.

The boater may be diabolic to his closest relatives, aloof to his butcher. He may daily chase his neighbor's cats, dogs and children from his yard.

Yet he loves his fellow boater—though he be a complete stranger—and there is no hardship he would not graciously, idiotically and joyously endure for him. Why? Does the answer lie in our seafaring genes that perk up at the sound of water, the feel of wind, and a deck underfoot?

We are constantly asked, "Why haven't more small-boat clubs been organized in Marin County?" Other areas — San Francisco, the East Bay and Delta—have many of these groups. They're pleasure boaters who love get-togethers for fishing, cook-outs, skiing, exploring, racing. And for just takin' a ride.

THE GOLDEN GATE Water Ski Club, Marin Division, is an organization whose primary purpose is bringing together persons interested in water skiing. It's a healthful recreation for the entire family, and its active social program includes dinners, dancing and outings. One of its continued aims is stressing water safety.

Members will take part in the Novato Western Weekend on June 16. Catamaran boat builder Bill Denny of Novato will be in the parade. His catamaran will be pulling five skiers on roller skates, made to look like skis.

SUNDAY a crew of Marin Rod and Gun Club members labored all day to construct a walkway from the top of their boat ramp to the float. Chairman Warren Orlandi supervised the project, and when completed, passengers can conveniently board their boats.

SAN RAFAEL Yacht Club members have approved some dredging. "Work will be done by the Marin Storage Co. in front of our clubhouse site," Commodore Morrison E. Green reports, "and our guest float will be installed there."

BOATERS should review the homes below Paradise Drive, (that bay-winding road from Corte Madera to Tiburon). Viewed from the water, they are fabulous. Take your binoculars for a close-up of lovely waterfront landscaping.

We had a complaint on our zealous, wayward report on Boat Insurance. This many-faceted topic makes explanations too wordy. So we say, "Boat insurance IS important. See your agent, he knows the answers."

QUESTION: How can I locate dry rot in a hull?

T. W., Greenbrae

ANSWER: We assume you're examining to buy. Take a pen knife with you. A small one shouldn't annoy the boat owner. Strike along the planking with the handle. Healthy wood will give a resounding rap. A spot giving a soft sound is grounds for suspicion. Ask the owner for permission to test it with the knife blade. Press the point into the wood across the grain. If it's rotten, the blade will go through as though it were soft margarine.

QUESTION: I have a 14 foot kit-built boat with a 35 h.p. motor. Other boaters do rings around me with less h.p. I've been told my propeller might be the trouble. What should the right diameter and pitch be?

A. E., Larkspur

ANSWER: Unfortunately there's far more to a propeller than just the pitch and diameter. There are also endless variations in the number of blades and in their shapes. Write to the manufacturer, or see a dealer. Proper prop installation increases engine life and adds officiency throughout the entire throttle range. On the other hand, operating your motor over or under the full-throttle recommended operating R.P.M. range may harm it.

least until someone betters his 13 seconds flat around the bases, said Selna. He was at Marin Catholic two years ago where he played both football and baseball.

OUTFIELD LINEUP

Outfielders for the Merchants will include Guy Robinson, three year veteran; Larry Pierce, centerfielder at Tam High who has one year of high school remaining, and Ken Hickman, a big left fielder who stands 6-2 and weighs about 185 pounds.

Paul Turncrantz and Bill Eberhart are utility infielders who probably will see some action.

Catcher for the Merchants will be Lauren Suchholz, who is known to have a powerful arm against potential base stealers. Also catching and playing outfield will be John Walker, junior at Tam High.

Sponsors for the Mill Valley team are the Old Mill Tavern, Mayer's Department Store and Eberharts Rent-A-Car service.

Bay Linkster Wins In Taho Golf Tourney

STATELINE, Nev., (UPI) — Al Reale of San Leandro won the Harrah's Invitational Golf Tournament yesterday with a seven-stroke edge over his nearest competitor, Dr. Robert Thompson of San Francisco.

Reale fired a six-under-par 62 yesterday for a 269 total for the 72-hole event. He was 11 under par for the tourney, which was played on both the Glenbrook layout and at Lake Tahoe Country Club.

Thompson had a 276 total, and former National Public Links Champion Vern Callison of Sacramento finished third with 280.

Low net honors went to Art Berberian of Stockton, who scored a net of 247 with his 18 handicap. Reale was second with a net 249.

The best-ball champions included Jim Slattery of Reno, Russell Bennett of Oakland, Joe Bell of Napa, and Wendell Coombs of Atherton. The team finished with a net of 212.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Mike Dejohn, 210½, Syracuse, N.Y., outpointed Bert Whitehurst, 198, Baltimore, 10.

ST. JEROME, Que.—Bob Cleroux, 204, Montreal, knocked out Jimmy Simpson, 193, Birmingham, Ala., 1.

Bill Hartack won three of the last seven Gulfstream Park Handicaps.

Channel Is Marked By Boat Club

White marker posts have been installed along the Gallinas Creek channel in San Pablo Bay by the Gallinas Boat Club to help boaters when in the area.

The posts were placed every 100 yards on the bay side of the channel starting at the wreck north of China Camp and ending at Joe's Landing in Santa Venetia.

The entrance to the two-mile long channel is marked by a diamond shaped white slat reflector board.

Operators of small craft entering this channel from the bay are cautioned to: Keep markers on their starboard side; beware of the sunken barge 300 yards in from the Echo Board; use care when passing rock in mid-channel 1,200 yards from entrance; and refrain from mooring to, or striking the markers.

PETERS BACK IN KC

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hank Peters, who left the Kansas City Athletics to become secretary of Cincinnati's minor league system, has returned to Kansas City. He will become assistant general manager and farm director for the Athletics.

Cards Suspend Ace

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Bonus baby Ray Sadecki, suspended by the St. Louis Cardinals for failing to show up for last night's game, says being traded is the answer to his problem.

But General Manager Bing Devine, who suspended the young lefthander indefinitely, says "He's no more tradeable today than he was yesterday."

Sadecki, 21, sat in his apartment during the game with Cincinnati while Devine watched it from the press box.

"I plan to call Devine Thursday—I've got to get this thing settled," Sadecki said.

"Fine," said Devine, "I'd be happy to talk with him. I don't want to be hard-nosed about it."

Sadecki's troubles started Tuesday night when he was brought in as a relief pitcher at the start of the sixth inning against Cincinnati. He gave up two home runs, committed two errors and allowed five runs to score without retiring a man before Manager Johnny Keane yanked him out in disgust. The Cards went on to win 10-9 in 11 innings.

Said Keane after the game: "The worst exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond."

He fined Sadecki $250.

"I told Devine I'm not going to put up with that. I said you're going to have to do something with me. I said get rid of me," Sadecki said.

The pitcher said Devine told him he would not be traded and that if he refused to play he would be suspended.

Sadecki signed with the Cards for a bonus estimated at $50,000 right out of high school in Kansas City, Kan., in 1958.

He won 14 games for the Cards last year and this year owns a 2-3 record and the worst earned run average on the team—7.20.

He blamed part of his trouble on not pitching often enough. "I've found it tough not pitching regularly.

Devine said, "He'll be used as the manager sees fit."

Richardson Hurls Senior Loop Win

The four-hit pitching by Laddie Richardson backed by an eight run batting spree in the first inning gave Currie Construction a 14-2 victory over American Steel Fabricators last night in the San Anselmo Senior League.

Kent Chubb added to the Currie attack by slamming a two-run homer in the third, when the winners scored five times.

Tomorrow Iacopi Meat Co., leading the league with a 2-1 record, meets Guasco at 5.45 p.m.

BRICK MULLER MEMORIAL AT CAL STADIUM

BERKELEY (UPI)—The University of California will build a "Brick Muller room" at Memorial Stadium in honor of the Bears' legendary football star, who died of a heart attack last month.

Chancellor E. W. Strong said yesterday that plans to construct the room, which will hold numerous football trophies, "become the center of Golden Bear tradition, and be used for the reception of distinguished guests at California games."

SANDERS SET RECORDS

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders, who competed in more golf tournaments than any other player on the 1961 PGA tour, set another record as third leading money winner.

Playing in 40 PGA cosponsored and approved tournaments and winning five, Sanders took home $57,428.47. He collected more in third place than any second place finisher in PGA history. Sanders and Gay Brewer were the only tour players to win two straight tournaments.

How Long Will It Take Norcal Fans To Accept Wilt The Stilt?

CONNOLLY

For want of a better word to describe him, I'll say Wilt Chamberlain, the new S.F. Warriors' basketball star, might be called the "mystical man of pro sports." By that I mean he is a mysterious individual comprised of two sections. In one of these sections he glides with the ease and grace of a seal at the Cliff House.

The second section of Wilt, who is seven feet tall, is his uncanny ability to co-ordinate his shuffling speed with a dead-eye knack of stuffing the casaba into the basket.

Wherever you go and to whomever you talk, it's Wilt who holds the spotlight. He positively is the most talked of athlete who ever allied himself with San Francisco and its snide sports world.

Northern California is slow to take anybody for granted. This area went almost four years before it accepted Willie Mays.

Mays came here so puffed up with New "Yawk" press notices the baseball fans refused to digest the malarkey. Willie was in a strange land and facing a completely new audience and I might add Willie might have thought the far west was a bush aggregation when it didn't recognize him as Mister Baseball.

BUT WILLIE wasn't any different than his bosses, who imagined the westerners were likewise imagined the westerners were goofy or simple-minded. They are just coming around to realizing that the only difference between New York and San Francisco is a few thousand miles.

I hope it doesn't take Northern California as long to recognize Wilt the Stilt as it did to fall in love with Willie Mays.

The National Basketball League is comparable to the National Football League and the National Baseball League. They are tops and any interloping aggregation opposed to it will learn the hard and bitter way as the American Football League found out and many other outfits have since learned.

FRANKLYN MIEULI, one of the several prominent sports people identified with the Warrior basketball aggregation, is a sports-minded person with no axe to grind or noses to pinch. He isn't coming into the basketball picture to crowd anybody else out. His gang says, "May the best man win" and that is their platform from which they will launch the National Basketball League.

"Me and my gang are in basketball for the fun of it and possibly to make a few bucks," Mieuli states. "I was invited into the 49ers by the late Tony Morabito who told me point blank that if I wanted some fun, and maybe make a few bucks, he'd allow me to invest. I invested and made a few bucks and have had a tremendous lot of fun. I hope to enjoy the same experience in basketball."

MIEULI AND his associates appreciate the hazards of pioneering a pro sport. In the first place they are stymied for a good place to play. They can't get the Cow Palace or the Civic Auditorium, so they are settling for the Winterland pavilion, which seats only 7000 people.

"We'll probably break even if we draw on an average of 4,000 per game," says Mieuli.

In a 40 home game stand that would add up to 160,000 paid customers. I have no idea of the average price of admission, but broken down, if it amounted to $4 per head, that would mean $640,000. From that figure you would have to deduct salaries of around $150,000; coaches' pay of about $25,000; probably 15 per cent for rental of Winterland; $100,000 for travelling and hotel expense and a possible net profit of $265,000.

On an investment of $850,000 it would take three years without any return on their investment to get out of the woods and by that time they would have a clear field and a place to seat 25,000 fans and might get off the floor smiling.

But I'm just guessing and if I remember correctly, I never was any good at figures.

1961 Champion Enters Monterey Road Races

Ken Miles of England and North Hollywood has filed entry for the Laguna Seca Invitational Sports Car Races scheduled for this weekend at Monterey Raceway.

Miles, who last year grabbed United States Auto Club honors as road racing champion, will tool a production Sunbeam Alpine in the small bore race for stock sports cars.

The slick wheeling southern Californian only two weeks ago scored a sensational double victory at the Santa Barbara Road Races, piloting the same Alpine to victory in the production battle, then coming back for a last minute win in the modified event at the wheel of a three litre Ferrari.

Laguna has always been one of Miles' better circuits. Few will forget "The Hawk's" brilliant performance in 1960 when he drove a Porsche to victory in the feature over Stan Sugarman's Birdcage Maserati.

Miles joins a star-studded field in the Pacific Coast Championship event. Early entries include three birdcage Maseratis to be chauffeured by Bill Krause, Dan Prades and Jay Naismith, a Lotus Monte Carlo and the Sebring and Daytona winning Formula Juniors entered by the Rosebud Racing team of Victoria, Texas, the Cotati winning Cooper Monaco to be handled by Sacramento's George Grinzewitsch, a Jaguar-Corvette with Don Hulette in the bucket seat, Frank Crane's swift Lotus-Buick and a three-car entry from the powerful British Motor car racing team featuring the new Genie Mark III.

More than 30,000 general admission and reserved seat tickets for the charity speed attraction will go on sale at the track on race day.

Saturday's card boasts eight qualifying events with Sunday's program of eight final heats scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m.

Satin Is Teamed With Pale Tweeds; 'Tusk White' Introduced For Fall

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—It will be wool, wool, wool for the cool, cool, cool of the evenings next fall and winter.

The unconventional use of sheer wools for formal apparel shows throughout the new fashion collections being previewed by New York garment manufacturers.

Satin is teamed with pale tweeds in evening suits. Wools show up as slinky, floor length evening gowns. And floral brocades line tweed coats or other bulky woolens and top short formal dresses repeating the brocades.

DESIGNER JACQUES Tiffeau of Monte Sano & Pruzan showed floor length formals sculpturing the body in chiffon weight wools in black or Egyptian clay, a reddish brown hue.

Bill Blass, designed at Maurice Rentner, used souffle wools for long formals with bared backs and halter or scoop front necks.

LUIS ESTEVEZ did sheer wool sheaths with chiffon toppings to cover otherwise bare shoulders.

At Marquise, the show stopper was a kelly green coat whose surface looked deep-piled as an unshorn sheep. It topped a white satin formal gown; the satin was repeated in the coat lining.

Designer Doland Brooks at Townley included a group of long, flowing formals in sheer wools in his collection. These were bias cut and came either in black or "tuck white," a new name for ivory after Mrs. John F. Kennedy's trip to India.

AT BEN ZUCKERMAN'S show yesterday, the favorite combinations for theater or dinner suits were tweeds or other bulky wools combined with silk moire or shadow-printed brocades in pale blues, pinks and yellows on white backgrounds. Typical of this group—a princess shaped coat in deep raspberry red paired with a sleeveless, collarless formal in pale pink brocade. The coat lining was the same as the dress.

Zuckerman's collection reflected a general trend in the garment industry for fall and winter—more fit to coats, suits and dresses.

Zuckerman's coats were shaped with vertical seaming and many give the figure a high bosomed look. Suits came with longer jackets, almost all at least three inches below the waist, some dropping to fingertip length.

Deanna Denman Will Become Bride Of David H. Spooner

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Denman of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter Deanna to David H. Spooner, son of Eugene L. Spooner of Portland, Ore. and the late Mrs. Spooner.

Deanna is the sister of Ron, a junior at San Francisco State College; Gerry, a senior at Marin Catholic High School; Jim, a student at St. Raphael's School, and Sun Denman, who will be a freshman at Seattle University. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Maurice Taylor of San Rafael and the late Mr. Taylor, Mrs. Ruth Denman of San Francisco and Charles Denman of Pt. Reyes.

Deanna was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and will complete her senior year at the University of Portland.

The future bridegroom is the brother of Eugene L. Spooner Jr. of Portland and the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendricks and the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Spooner.

He was graduated from Central High School and the University of Portland, where he is studying for a master of fine arts degree. He is a former teaching assistant in the speech and drama department of the university, and the former assistant producer for the Old Brewery Summer Theater in Helena, Mont.

The couple plans a September wedding and will live in Vancouver, Wash., where the bridegroom will join the faculty of Clark College.

FACE AND FIGURE

Last Chance To Lose Lbs. Before Swim Suit Weather

If you're planning to go on a diet with the object of trimming your figure down to the bone so that it can be seen in a tank suit this summer—you'll have company. This is an inspired season for counting calories—or, in another light, our last chance to lose weight before we stand revealed at the poolsides, on the beaches.

So far, nobody has found a way of making dieting loads of fun. But we have a few suggestions that might help blunt its painful edge.

DON'T GET TOO ambitious. If you've been carrying a curvy 135 for more than a year, you won't benefit by trying to lose 20 pounds in three or four weeks. You'll only end up pinched-faced, boney-shouldered and not necessarily more beautiful in your weightless state. It's much easier to reduce to 130 or 125 and you'll probably look and feel quite wonderful for it.

You'll never starve alone—if you go on a high protein diet that can be shared by the rest of your family. Let them gorge on bread, butter, thick cream, lush desserts and sugar, if they will. It's not hard to pass these up if your entree is essentially the same as theirs: boiled meat, fish or fowl — eggs poached, boiled or coddled—all green and yellow vegetables, most fresh fruits.

CUT DOWN ON starch, sugar and fat—but don't give them up entirely. Your body needs this fuel, even a little of it, to function efficiently. This means you may have a piece of toast with your egg in the morning—a tablespoon of oil on your salad at noon—and a teaspoon of sugar in your coffee at night. And an occasional glass of whole milk won't tip the scales in the wrong direction, either.

Keep a wary eye on your skin. Because your body is receiving less fat through your food, it may be unable to provide your skin with adequate lubrication. The surface can become dry, flaky and colorless as a result.

Start giving your skin moisturizing treatments as soon as you begin your diet.

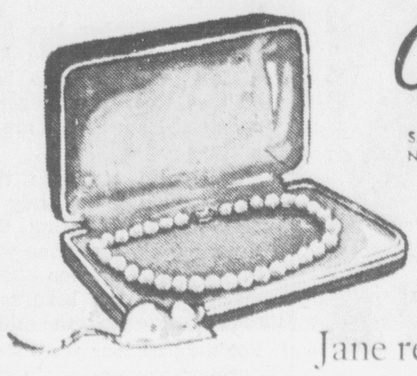
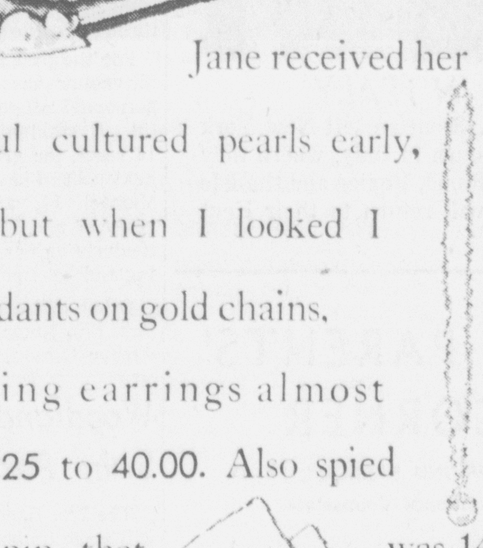
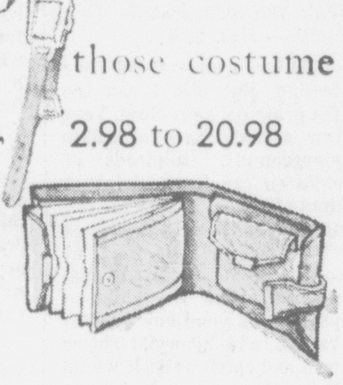
ONCE UPON A LIFETIME I was the sweet girl graduate and visions of sugar plums could become reality, the only question which plum from Modern Eve SAN RAFAEL NOVATO would be the sweetest.

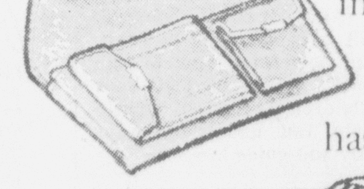


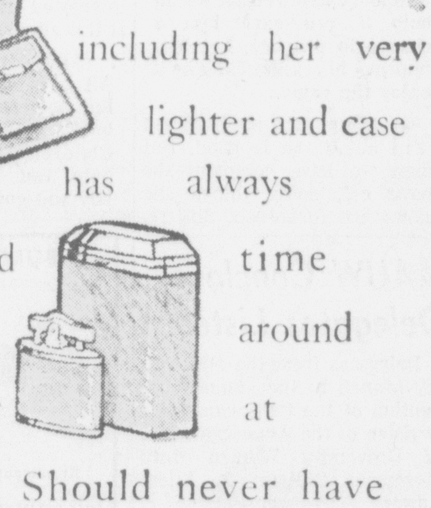
Jane received her string of beautiful cultured pearls early, for the prom, but when I looked I found the pendants on gold chains, with matching earrings almost as drooly from 2.25 to 40.00. Also spied a tiny mouse pin that was 14K gold I dug the most would even baby sit 10.00 worth to pay for him myself.

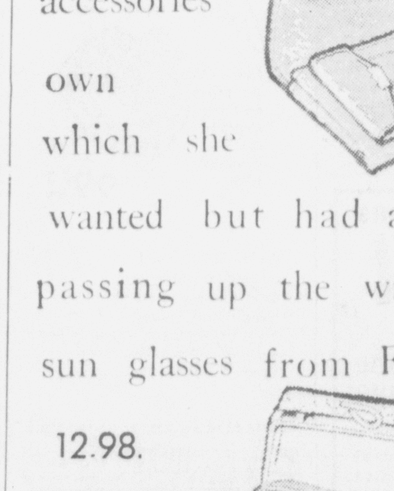


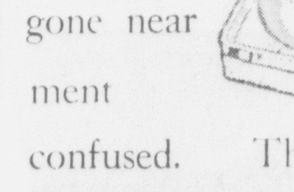
Nancy was there buying her short white gloves and I flipped when I saw they were only 3.00 and those costume watches are the greatest, 2.98 to 20.98 I finally decided to get Judy a matching set of Rolf purse accessories including her very own lighter and case which she has always wanted but had a hard time passing up the wrap around sun glasses from France at 12.98. Should never have gone near the cosmetic department then I was even more confused. There I found plastic lined, matching travel cases by Trina that I must have for my trip to the fair. Oh heck, I just couldn't decide what to hint for so guess I'll ask for a BIG FAT GIFT CERTIFICATE and maybe I can get them all.











Anyway, I'll get E for effort.

Boy Who Shuns Recess Ballgames May Need To Improve His Skills

(Q) "Our boy does not like the ball games he's supposed to play on the school grounds at noon. He would rather run around on his own. However, the principal requires all children to join teams. If they don't they are penalized. My boy is in sixth grade. Do you think the principal is being fair?" — Mrs. L. T.

(A) I can understand your feeling. But also I can see the principal's problem. Very few schools have adequate playgrounds. Hundreds of children are jammed into a limited space. If they all ran around on their own, chaos would result. The practical solution is to organize teams, and insist on the children playing. Is your boy good at ball? Can he hit well? Throw well and catch well? It would help if you gave him a chance to practice. Let him improve his skills. Then he'll enjoy the game.

(Q) "Our girl is 7. When we're alone she is good. But when we have company she shows off, doing things she knows are forbidden. She refuses to eat her food, for example. Or she drinks coffee, although she knows she shouldn't. Sometimes she is rude to me, or to my guests. Is her behavior normal? Is it wrong for me to put up with it?" — Mrs. P. J.

(A) My answer is yes to both questions. It is normal for children to misbehave when they think they can get by with it. And it is wrong for you to put up with it. Set up clear rules. Be sure she understands them. Then next time she misbehaves, send her to her room. After the company is gone, punish her. Use the mildest punishment which will teach the needed lesson. If you are consistent, she'll learn fast.

(Q) "Our son is 14. He is interested in female anatomy. Is this abnormal?" — R. T.

(A) No, it is not abnormal. All boys share his interest. Let me refer you to the book, "What to Tell Your Children About Sex." It will help you understand your boy and guide him.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Marin Income Goes Outside— 14 Per Cent In Outdoor Living

Outdoor expenditures run high in Marin, according to a recent survey.

Households spend an average of 14 per cent of their incomes in exterior pursuits — almost half of that on travel and nearly another quarter on outside home improvements. The rest goes toward gardening, sportswear, photography, boating, fishing equipment, camping, swimming pools, outdoor furniture and outdoor cooking.

JUNE STEWART, who's handled insurance in the Orr and Paige real estate office in Kentfield for the past five years and has been in all phases of insurance for another 15, will open her own office at 816 Grant Avenue, Novato. She'll cover the entire field as a general insurance broker.

It wil lbe known as J. A. Stewart Insurance Agency. Roscoe Morgan who has worked with her will continue. He lives in Novato.

AUTOMATIC VOLUME CONTROL is the novel feature of Zenith's new Sentry hearing aid, according to George Oliva of Physician's Optical Co., San Rafael — particularly effective in the extreme ranges of violent an dexplosive sounds and faint noises and whispers.

A completely new circuitry modulates painful decibels and cacophonies a 20th of a second before they are heard by the user and restores normal sound a 10th of a second after they are over. It also amplifies weak and muffled voices to greater clarity with the same efficiency, he said, and has fewer controls than conventional hearing aids.

Zenith has been working on the device more than four years.

TIPS FOR TRIPS. Vacations are already being spotted on the calendar. If yours involves extensive driving, you and the family automobile should work together to make it more pleasant.

Before. Check your tires. For wear, pressure and rotation. Wheel alignment and balance are important.

Radiator, battery and ignition, fanbelt and above all — brakes. You can usually get started, but can you stop?

Oil level and change, lubrication points and lights. Have you thought to take with you: An extra set of keys, first aid kit, litter bag, maps?

During. Your trip will be a lot safer if you limit your driving to 10 hours a day. Get plenty of sleep and rest during the other 14.

Break up monotony. Stop for coffee or gas at regular intervals. Get out and walk around. Two-hour or 150 mile driving periods are recommended.

Check your daily course each morning with your maps. If it includes a side trip over questionable terrain, ask at your gas station about the roads. You're not on a Lewis and Clark expedition.

Follow the road signs for caution signals. Take the highway department's word for it if warnings are posted.

Keep your car neatly stowed. Avoid piling gear so high you can't see around it. Auto accessories don't yet include periscopes.

After. If it was a long trip, recheck some of the things you did before you started. Accidents can happen at home, too.

The first royal guest of New Orleans Mardi Gras was the Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, who attended the celebration in 1872.

Are you on North's side? If South passed the double of three clubs, he would collect a penalty of 500 points.

SATISFIED

South was satisfied with his decision when he saw the dummy. What could he lose but two clubs and the ace of trumps?

Four hearts bid and made with honors would be worth 720 points.

Unfortunately for him, South's trumps weren't as strong as they looked. He had to lose two trump tricks even though the suit broke 3-3.

West cashed the king and queen of clubs and then thoughtfully led a low club, forcing East to ruff. Just as thoughtfully, East ruffed with the seven of hearts, and South had to use up the ten to win the trick.

INCREDIBLE QUEEN

South led the queen of hearts, hoping to steal the trick. West wondered if his partner had the singleton king of hearts left but decided not to believe it.

This would mean that South's entire hand was seven hearts to the Q-J-10 and assorted garbage.

With such a hand South would respond three hearts instead of one heart.

Having come to this conclusion, West stepped up with the ace of hearts and led another low club. East ruffed with the eight of hearts, and South had to use up the jack to win the trick.

Now West was sure to win the setting trick with the nine of hearts. South's honors offset the penalty for going down one, so South wound up with nothing but a lecture from his partner.

Today is Thursday, June 7 the 158th day of the year with 207 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1769, Daniel Boone started his exploration of Kentucky.

In 1864, delegates meeting in Baltimore for the Republican convention nominated Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson to head their ticket.

In 1948, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took up his duties as president of Columbia University in New York.

A thought for the day: American novelist Willa Cather said: "We all like people who do things, even if we only see their faces on a cigar-box lid."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Seminary Proving Important To 'Tourist' Trade Too

The nationwide convention of Southern Baptists in San Francisco has particular importance to Marin County. Not only was one section of the convention, the church music conference, held here, but the president of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Harold K. Graves, was honored on the 10th anniversary of his administration.

A number of smaller events also were scheduled on the Strawberry campus and President Graves estimated that as many as 10,000 convention goers would visit Marin before the adjournment——

Thus it is that the seminary is attracting people from all over the nation into Marin County. In truth, the seminary has become a West Coast center for those of the Baptist faith and others who are taking their religious training on its campus.

When the seminary first opened its doors a couple of years ago, we welcomed it as a new "light industry" for Marin. Since then the products, its graduates, have shown themselves indeed to be fine Marin products.

Now its beautiful campus is also proving to be an important "tourist" attraction.

No Real Freedom Without Them

Today the free press of the Western Hemisphere unite in observance of Freedom of the Press Day.

This nine-year-old observance was instituted by the Inter-American Press Association in 1953 at a time when 50 million people in Argentina, Colombia, the Dominican Republics, Venezuela and Cuba were denied the rights of free expression and a free press.

Today there are still 16 million people in Cuba, Bolivia, Haiti and Paraguay who are denied these basic rights. But there has been a gain of 34 million Americans now free to speak and read as they wish.

But the danger of losing these rights is illustrated by the fact that three of four nations now denying these freedoms had free press and speech just nine years ago. Obviously it is necessary to keep a constant guard, to continuously fight for these freedoms or they will be lost.

Without them there is no real freedom of any kind.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

You Figure Out Which Slate Won Central Committee Fight

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

If you are wondering which team or slate in the Democratic party's intramural County Central Committee scrap came out on top, you won't find an answer here. We'll tell you which candidates won from each ticket, but if you can figure out who came out on top, we'll put in with you.

For example, First District voters put Thomas P. Boyd and Samuel W. Gardiner up as their one-two choices for central committee. They were both on the Gardiner "team," and, we might add, would probably have been elected had any number of slates been proposed.

The third, fourth and fifth vote leaders, with five to be elected, are Mary E. Weiss, Harold Morgan and Muriel S. Appenzeller. They are all on the slate proposed by a committee of Democratic club-oriented proponents. But Mrs. Appenzeller is clinging to a 23-vote lead over Fred E. Jensen, one of the Gardiner team. And there are 1292 absentee votes not yet counted, about 200 of them in the First District.

THE SECOND District was almost a sweep for the Gardiner team headed by Samuel W. Gardiner Jr., who up to now has had little or nothing to do with organized Democratic politics in the county.

But young Gardiner wound up with the top number of votes and the next five in line, Edward J. Truett, Edwin J. McCarthy, Peter Allen Smith, John C. Oglesby and Albert E. Gately, all were Gardiner team men, although Gately also would qualify as a clubs' candidate too.

The seventh man of seven to be named, is Bennett Skewes-Cox, a clubs candidate. And it appears the absentee ballots will make no change in the final result.

THE THIRD DISTRICT, in fact none of the other three, had no Gardiner team. But the clubs group put up candidates. Three of their candidates, Wyman W. Hicks, Patrick Healy and Robert Harmon, were elected, along with the three non-ticket candidates, Lee V. Holman, Frank J. Phillips and Hadden W. Roth, all incumbents.

In the Fourth District, the clubs-backed candidate, Ellen T. Straus, won over Thomas T. Storer. And the two clubs candidates, Ernest Schallinger and George DeTuncq, were leading, along with William Luft in the Fifth District. But DeTuncq had only a 32 vote lead over Nick Kobseff, with the absentees still uncounted.

THE CHARGE had been made that the Gardiner teams were aimed at eliminating all women from the central committee. If so, it succeeded only partially.

Apparently clear out is Rebecca Wood Watkin, who ran ninth in the Second District with seven to be elected. Mrs. Appenzeller in the First District is still clinging to her seat, pending the absentees, but Mary E. Weiss in the same district polled third in a field of 10 and is assured of victory.

Of the two other women proposed on the clubs slate, Mrs. Straus was re-elected, but Elaine B. Guthrie was running 11th in a field of 15.

So which group won? Your guess is as good as mine.

THE ONLY REPUBLICAN we knew of was that of the Marin Republican Council. It proposed 10 candidates in four districts and placed six of them.

In the First District, however, both Ike Livermore and Mort Colvin ran behind, 6th and 10th respectively, with five elected. Leighton Hatch and Chuck Michals ran out of the money in the Third and Second Districts respectively. But the other six, Bill Anderson, Wally Kieckhefer, Jim McNab, Hank Broderick, Ed Gundstrom and Ned Ward won.

And, incidentally, David Winslow, outgoing GOP chairman who worried about being re-elected to the committee because he was last on the ballot, pulled the top vote in his district.

Stinson Woman's Signals Mixed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re: Patriotism.

I think a certain woman from Stinson Beach has her signals mixed.

Too many Americans know that the Star Spangled Banner was written by Francis Scott Key, who was a prisoner aboard an enemy ship during a fight for freedom. The only sounds he heard were the cannons blasting an American fort.

As the first light of day showed him that the American flag was still high above Fort McHenry, he gratefully transferred his thoughts into words.

Our national anthem was, is, and always will be one of belief and faith in the right kinds of freedoms and the ability to light for the basic fundamentals that became the foundation of the United States in 1776.

My understanding of the school safety laws is that there are definite rules and regulations on smoking. Would the Supreme Court on Civil Rights still say she was right? I doubt it.

If the whole point of this episode was to get her name mentioned in the paper, she can't get that satisfaction from me, since her breed is a minority group that always tries for a grandstand play and never makes it.

Organization Fails To Represent

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On April 6, as a member of the Tiburon Property Owners' Association I wrote as follows to Harry M. Bragg, president:

Dear Harry:

May I suggest that before any official action is taken by the association on incorporating Tiburon or any of the association's funds granted for the furtherance of incorporation, a poll should be taken of the members so that the majority shall prevail.

I have not received the courtesy of a reply.

At an open meeting of the association about a year ago a show of hands counted about 11 for and eight against incorporation, with husbands and wives and anybody else voting. This could not be called a poll of members.

A group of friends and myself joined the association late in 1961. At another open meeting (3/16/62) with four guest speakers waiting, Mr. Hannahs, president, asked the audience for an oral vote on a slate of officers and directors. Mr. Sterling raised his hand, but was not recognized. The "ayes" were barely audible, no "nays." Then to my amazement Mr. Hannahs did not relinquish the chair to the new president until we were ready to adjourn. And I might add Mr. Hannahs did a very good job of coloring answers to favor incorporation.

After watching this association operate for over a year one can only come to the conclusion that it does not reflect the views of property owners.

In house-to-house canvassing, workers against making Tiburon a big city have found 80 to 90 per cent of the property owners contacted against incorporation. A once-around in Hawthorne Terrace brought 35 parcels against incorporation and Bay View Terrace (the street) showed 32 against incorporation.

Comments On Ignorance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Mrs. Donna Franzblau's letter of May 29 discussing my "abysmal ignorance" requires some comment, for she did not make clear the basic reasons for differing with my opinions. The basic differences of opinion between the conservaties and the liberal left-wing are as follows:

1. She characterizes members of the Methodist Federation for Social Action and Dr. Linus Pauling . . . as "patriotic Americans." Conservatives cannot class as patriots men and women who are members of or support the communist criminal conspiracy.

2. She says ". . . and without international law and order there can be no hope for international peace . . ." Conservatives believe in maintaining a militarily strong and soverign republic and guaranteeing Americans their freedoms and security under the Constitution of the United States of America . . .

3. She says we "must find a common meeting ground with the communist nations." Conservatives cannot find a "common meeting ground" with a Godless conspiracy . . .

4. She says my attack on cultural exchanges points to my abysmal ignorance. Khrushchev in 1956 listed cultural and business exchanges as "one of those developments which will bring about the growing weakness of the United States and advance world socialism" . . . Conservatives do not want to advance or promote world socialism.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Aboard a luxury liner bound from Le Havre to New York, one elderly first-class passenger was boasting to a chance acquaintance of comparable vintage, about a wonderful new watering spot he had discovered in Austria. "I don't know what chemical qualities the water there contains," he declared, "but I do know it's guaranteed to take 20 years off of anybody's life." When the acquaintance registered acute skepticism, the elderly gentleman produced his clinching argument.

"You'll believe me," he crowed, "when I tell you of my own experience there. I arrived with a beautiful female friend who was 18 years old —and in three days she disappeared!"

"How can you say you're lonesome?" soothed a mother to a 3-year-old who didn't like to go to sleep in the dark. "You're really not alone at all. God is with you, and you have your two favorite dolls right in bed beside you." "I know," sobbed the little girl, "but I want somebody with skin on their face."

A mousey little man was hauled into court for beating up his wife — a formidable, Amazonian creature. The judge, trying to conceal a certain amount of admiration, demanded, "What came over you?" The little man explained, "Well, Your Honor, she had her back to me, the fire poker was handy, and the back door was open. So I took a chance!"

It's Hello Again After 20 Years To Larkspur Dance And A New Beat

Everybody's writing goodby columns. Not me. I'm still hollering hello again.

The preceding Central Marin bureau manager having been pulled in to the home office in bustling San Rafael to do sports, our superiors have sent me to cover his former beat in Corte Madera:

The town and city councils and police of Corte Madera and Larkspur plus the fire departments and grade schools of those communities and Kentfield.

THE BEAT ALSO embraces College of Marin, Tamalpais Union High School District, Corte Madera Shopping Center and no doubt other things I will be reminded of by phone and teletype.

As a town snoop who enjoys his field, I complain not. It beats working or looking for work.

One of my first social acts was to attend the opening Saturday night of the 53rd year of magical summer dances held in the Rosebowl on Cane Street in Larkspur by the city's volunteer firemen.

MORE THAN 20 years ago when I was an apple-cheeked reporter for International News Service in San Francisco, my first wife, Hazel, and I used to drive over in our 1931 De Soto roadster to these dances.

Fire Chief George Bartram assured me the vast, lovely area with trees growing through the floor is the same that I danced on in the long ago. A 10-piece orchestra played fox trots, waltzes and twists for the 500 dancers.

Tunes included evergreens from the 1930s and one eye-misting one from the 1920s: "I'll See You In My Dreams," the Gus Kahn-Isham Jones standard.

BARTRAM SAYS it's the best dancing place in the Bay Area and I think he just may be right. It did its boom business in 1946 when it yielded a $75,000 profit—all of which went to the first department. One night that year it held 4,226 dancers.

In 1957 the volunteers turned a whole fire department, worth nearly $500,000, over to the city. Take from the dances still goes to the fire department, to buy trucks and equipment that don't have to come from city taxes.

Bartram reports there's no ill feeling between paid and volunteer firemen in Larkspur. The paid regulars are volunteers too. Wives and girl friends serve without pay like the firemen to help operate the dances.

THE CORTE MADERA Recreation Center had a dance the same night, for teeners. Ne beeves broke out such as the bloody brangle a fortnight or so earlier outside the building between toughs and sheriff's officers.

Deputy sheriffs tell me they do guard duty and take on other extra work and 95 per cent of their wives work because the officers' pay is less than that of rookie cops in San Francisco.

San Francisco policemen's pay now is $596 a month, goes to $641 after two and one-half years. July 1 these rates go to $627 and $672.

Marin sheriff's officer's pay is $420, goes to $506 after five years, to $530 after seven to eight years.

Officers quit the Marin sheriff's office for such improbable places as El Cerrito because they can't support a family on their Marin pay, deputies tell me.

Maybe they've cooled down, but about two weeks ago 20 or so were reported planning to turn in their badges and ulcers.

Happy budget time, supervisors!

We May Be Getting Some Place In Better Campaign Financing

WASHINGTON—It is all to the good that President Kennedy is giving his support to the proposals of the bi-partisan White House commission to promote better financing and to require better reporting of presidential campaign funds.

This is needed. A principal objective is to create a much wider basis of small contributions so that no large contributor or group of contributors, whether from big business or big labor, can feel they can exert a priority influence on either party or either candidate.

Two legislative actions are necessary. One would provide reasonable tax deductions for individual or family contributions to the major parties. The other would create a registry of election finance in the general accounting office to which candidates for the nominations and the nominees in the campaign would be required to report everything received and spend—or else.

THESE PROPOSALS, including the suspension of the "equal time" provision in the Federal Communications Act to permit the renewal of the national TV debates in 1964, have been endorsed by former presidents Truman and Eisenhower and former presidential nominees Thomas Dewey, Adlai Stevenson and Richard Nixon. Such a range of recommendation ought to encourage Congress to act.

To promote mass contributions to meet the rising costs of national campaigns, I would like to see the two national committees take a further step by creating a bipartisan fund-raising commission headed by men above party.

MANY PEOPLE are never invited to contribute. The Gallup polls show that many thousands more individuals would contribute if asked. Many are doubtful about the integrity of how the funds are distributed.

Independent voters might like to contribute to the bipartisan commission and through it to both parties in order to finance the national debate. The partisans could earmark their gifts to either party.

There is good reason to believe that this method would vastly increase mass contributing and decrease the dependence of either party on big contributors.

There is another urgent campaign-fund reform which has long been neglected. I refer to the perfectly proper campaign expenses of members of Congress between elections and of congressional candidates in the elections.

One would have thought that the bitter, lacerating experience which Nixon had over the California "Nixon fund" raised by a group of his senatorial constituents to defray between-election campaign costs would have prevented its repetition.

It didn't.

WE NOW HAVE the Texas "Yarborough fund' raised for a similar purpose by Billie Sol Estes and a group of Yarborough's senatorial constituents.

Neither the "Nixon fund" nor the "Yarborough fund" is illegal. Both such funds are improper and unwise since they tend to put an elected public official of moderate means in the debt of a few of his constituents.

It seems to me that the same principle of wide, tax-deductible contributions proposed for presidential candidates is equally applicable to congressional candidates for the same reasons. They could be raised by independent bipartisan commissions in each state and allocated equally or as earmarked.

Common Mart World Impact Causes Worry

NEW YORK (AP)—The Common Market's impact on the rest of the world is suddenly mushrooming all over the front pages.

A small trade war is threatened between the trading bloc and the United States over carpet and glass tariffs on our part and certain chemicals, paints and textiles on the part of the six European nations.

Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, Pakistan—all are protesting the possible loss to them if Britain joins the Common Market at the expense of abandoning preferential treatment for nations of the British Commonwealth.

Even the Communist countries are debating in Moscow today how to counteract the growing power of the Common Market in Western Europe that is crippling their trade.

The impact is felt on political as well as trade policies, on domestic as well as foreign programs.

The U.S. Congress is deep in a tariff debate. The central question: how best the United States can deal with the Common Market threat or take advantage of its promise of expanded trade if we cooperate.

The British government may face a political crisis as opposing parties take sides, even split amongst themselves, on the commonwealth problem.

Soviet policies may well be affected. Many of the Common Market inroads involve trade with the satellites rather than with Russia itself. The Soviet Union has been selling crude oil and certain types of steel to Western Europe at prices well below what its satellites must pay.

In all parts of the world, including the Common Market itself, the current problems are fluid. It is this uncertainty as to the final direction that upsets business and politicians most.

For the Common Market isn't a complete thing yet by any means. Quarrels over treatment of agricultural products still divide the six members—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

And still very much in doubt is what progress they may make towards some form of political as well as trade unity. Age-old national and racial differences are proving hard to surmount.

But for all its unsolved problems and the uncertainties about its final form, the Common Market is a very solid fact today.

The current danger is that failure to come to terms with it on tariffs, import quotas and currency or other trade barriers could divide the Western world into warring trade blocs.

It's this danger that spices the political debates on both sides of the Atlantic, both sides of the Pacific, and perhaps within the walls of the Kremlin.

Clean Fill Sought For Sausalito's Sandspit

The city of Sausalito is inviting building contractors to dump clean fill in "the hole" on the sandspit at Anchor Street near the municipal parking lot.

City Manager Charles A. Brown said contractors must inform him or Norman Wohlschlaeger, street superintendent, before dumping. The city council has indicated it will not use the area for parking but that it may be used for a park. A small corner portion of "the hole" is leased from the city by Madden and Lewis Co. and is to be filled by that firm.

Crowded Schoolrooms Plague Larkspur Board

Larkspur School District board members Tuesday discussed overcrowded classrooms in their four schools in presence of about 15 parents at a meeting in the district office in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Absence of three of the five trustees precluded any formal action.

The two trustees present decided to schedule a special board meeting at the district office at 7:30 p.m. Monday to hear the report of the budget committee. The budget must be adopted by June 30.

The free chest X-ray service, provided by the hospital and the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. will resume July 10. It is the only facility in the county providing free tuberculosis screening.

POLICE SURVEY REPORTS

San Rafael Police Should Not Be Clerical Workers

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON
(Second in a Series)

Some reorganization of the San Rafael Police Department has already resulted from the visit and study of Police Chief Charles E. Simpson of Monterey.

In his 60-page report to the city council, who employed him to make a two-month study of the department, Simpson wrote that on his arrival he found the self-assigned duties of the police chief as follows:

"A daily review of reports, conference with available staff officers, conferences with callers and visitors, reading and acting upon the mail, issuing instructions concerning operations or policy, answering questions concerning immediate problems and authorizing purchases.

"A great deal of his time was spent in the community performing various tasks of public relations . . ."

Chief Simpson continued: "There comes a time, and San Rafael has reached this point, where this detail becomes so great it is impossible for one person to care for it and at the same time perform the necessary wider administrative functions."

Chief Charles J. Chiesa has begun delegating authority to Capt. Joseph Brusatori, reported Simpson. He suggested still further delegation.

Simpson discovered a patrolman heading the daytime office crew and "greatly over-loaded."

He found a lieutenant and a sergeant comprising the investigation section, "also heavily loaded."

He found the lines of authority not clear, and officers spending too much time on clerical work. He also found "no analysis had been made to determine the suitability or size" of the beats set up for patrol. He made such an analysis, and a new beat setup has been adopted.

The biggest squeeze was in office work, Simpson discovered. And patrolmen and sergeants do office work less efficiently than female clerks. He therefore recommended that two dispatcher-clerks and a stenographer-clerk be added at once, along with one patrolman.

These female clerks, suggested Simpson, should be sworn in as policewomen—as should the three meter maids, who are now in civilian status. They could then serve warrants.

The result, he said, would be nine more patrol shifts per week through employing clerks in the office, plus five shifts for the additional patrolman—14 shifts in all, or almost equivalent to adding three patrolmen, plus more efficient office work.

Simpson found one officer charged with serving warrants—and a backlog of $20,000 worth of warrants unserved.

He suggested that beat officers be given warrants to serve on their beats, that a system of warrant follow-up be established.

Traffic safety presents a real problem in San Rafael, Simpson reported.

"Not a great deal of emphasis has been placed on traffic accident prevention," he wrote. Based on National Safety Council estimates of average loss in traffic accidents, the 886 accidents in San Rafael last year cost the city's people $395,113, he said.

"The city has a traffic committee which meets almost every month, and I recommend that the department representatives, the committee itself and the radar patrolmen confer and set up a simple accident analysis," he wrote. This would be the first step in working out an accident-prevention plan.

Another weakness, he told the council, was in reporting. After his survey, he wrote, "I concluded conservatively that reports are being made on only about 50 per cent of the cases which normally should require a report. Most of these omissions are in non-criminal cases." Lack of full reporting, he pointed out, hampers the chief in assignment of manpower and in justifying budget requests for men and equipment.

Chief Simpson found San Rafael's police personnel of high calibre and selected through an examination system adequate except for lack of background checking. But he found their training on the job could stand improvement.

Many of the newer officers have attended a state training program, he noted, but this school is "not conducted too frequently" and officers get little on-the-job training before assuming beat responsibility.

He recommended the department try to develop its own training organization. Also he proposed a daily roll-call training period, worked out to cover the necessary training of patrolmen in a few minutes each day. Such a course is available from the California Peace Officers' Assn., he wrote.

"As far as I could determine," went on the Monterey chief, "no provision has been made at all for the formal training and development of staff men (sergeants, lieutenants, captain and chief).

"This is a particularly unfortunate omission and perhaps herein may lie the reason that, although the department has grown in size and in work load, it had not made the type of organizational adjustment recommended in some sections of this report."

REP. MILLER SAYS:

Area Will Get Youth Camp If Conservation Measure Enacted

By CLEM MILLER

WASHINGTON — I learned this week that if Congress authorizes a Youth Conservation Corps this session, at least one Conservation Corps camp would be located in the Redwood Empire.

The 200 or so young men involved would do much-needed conservation work in the King Range country of southwest Humboldt County, and in the Cow Mountain area, southeast of Lake Mendocino in Mendocino and Lake counties. These are public lands under the Department of Interior's Bureau of Land Management. Conservation work would be supervised by foresters and other professional resource managers working out of the Ukiah office of BLM.

A serious backlog of natural resources protection and development work exists in these areas. This includes reforestation of neglected timberlands, timber stand improvement, rangeland reseeding, access road and trail building, fire hazard reduction, stream clearance and other habitat improvement for salmon, steelhead and other wildlife, also soil erosion control, building of campsites and other outdoor recreation facilities.

In addition to work under the Bureau of Land Management, Youth Conservation Corps work would be supervised by other natural resource agencies. These include the Forest Service, Soil Conservation Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs, National Park Service, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. State agencies would include the Department of Fish and Game and Division of Beaches and Parks. County governments, also, could participate.

The bill now pending in the House provides that a third of the strength of the Youth Conservation Corps would be allocated to the state or local governments.

Other key features of the House bill, as it stands are:

1—Voluntary enrollment would be available to 12,000 young men between 16 and 21.

2—Enrollment limits would be on a quota basis: 50 per cent from each state according to its population, the rest from areas of "substantial unemployment."

3—The boys would be paid $70 a month, plus subsistence.

The proposal has a dual purpose: Producing useful, healthy, employment and training and educational opportunities for jobless young men; and completing important conservation work.

I believe the Youth Conservation Corps is needed more today than the CCC was in 1933. We don't have as much unemployment as in Depression days, but neither do we have future prospects for youthful employment. Today we have a greater backlog of needed conservation work.

The unemployment rate in the YCC age category is now 16 per cent, more than double the national rate. Greatest increase of young men in the labor market in history will come in the mid-1960's. In 1965, 3.8 million young Americans will become 18 years old.

The YCC would remove young men of good capacity from delinquent-prone environments and trouble - brewing idleness and give them useful, self-respecting, character building work and training.

The legislation has been recommended by the House Education and Labor Committee, following hearings (at which I testified). The bill is now pending before the House Rules Committee. If it wins Rules Committee clearance, I believe it will be enacted.

Boy Arrested For Attempt To Rape

A 16-year-old Bolinas boy was sent to Marin Juvenile Hall Tuesday for attempting to rape a 15-year-old girl on the Bolinas Ridge yesterday.

The girl and her mother told Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Irving that the girl had visited Oakland yesterday. She returned by bus to Stinson Beach and was waiting for her mother when the youth and a companion from Petaluma drove up. They persisted in offering her a ride home, then drove up Bolinas Ridge instead of taking her directly home.

The girl said the youth ripped her clothes and tried to molest her. She fought him off, crying hysterically.

Wild Pitch Hits Bus —Windshield Broken

Driver John H. Davis of Petaluma told officers that the boys who had been playing with the ball disappeared before he could talk to them.
